

Taxpayers May Get Breather To July 1

WASHINGTON — (P) — Some congressional tax framers indicated today the 50,000,000 or more individual taxpayers may get a short breather—possibly to July 1—before Uncle Sam reaches into their pockets for more money again.

Chairman Doughton (D-N. C.) of the tax-initiating House ways and means committee said too he hopes that before any new action is taken on taxes "the administration, by action, not words, will do something about cutting unnecessary government expenses."

Defense Costs Mount
Aside from expenses of defense and security, he said, government spending should be cut to the bone.

Doughton told newsmen he doubts if anybody knows now just how much of a tax increase President Truman will ask to meet mounting defense costs. But guesses are running from $5,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000 a year. The president said Wednesday the increase must be "substantial."

The Capitol Hill managers of tax legislation — Doughton and Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate finance committee — expect taxes to be increased again. But some members of the ways and means committee said privately they think any increase on individual incomes probably will not become effective until July 1.

Administration leaders said they expect the ways and means committee to explore the whole tax field in a search for new revenue that may require several months.

Plug Up Loopholes
Doughton said specifically he is anxious to plug the loopholes by which some taxpayers, because of the way they get or dispose of their money, avoid a fair share of taxes.

The general feeling on Capitol Hill seems to be that the next bill will increase levies on individual and corporate incomes, and boost and possibly broaden the excise or sales taxes. Excises now are collected on such things as liquor, tobacco, cosmetics, movie tickets, luggage and jewelry.

Under orders from the Senate finance committee, the staff of tax experts employed by Congress also is studying the wisdom of a general manufacturers' or retail sales tax, and the feasibility of an excess profits tax on individuals and partnerships.

Truman Faces Toughest Test Of Leadership

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (P) — The second act in one of the most dramatic and important periods in American history begins next week. The first act was the disaster in Korea and the beginning of mobilization.

On Monday President Truman delivers his "state of the union" message to Congress. Then some time later Congress begins its foreign policy debate, either full-dress and formally, or piecemeal. Every president has the task yearly of handing his state of the union message to Congress. It's his program for what he thinks this country should do at home and abroad in the year ahead.

No president ever had a more important message to deliver than Mr. Truman on Monday. It will be a strong test of his leadership at a time when he and his administration have been accused of failing to provide leadership. One thing is certain: During his White House stay Mr. Truman has broken no records in getting to a radio to tell the people with his own lips where the country is going, and why, or where he thinks it ought to go.

During these long gaps between his face to face talks with the nation—some critics call the gaps a vacuum—a strong tide of feeling has poured in and spread, a feeling that this country should withdraw behind the two seas. But Mr. Truman's policy is pitched in the opposite direction: Keeping foreign Allies, helping them re-arm, sending American troops overseas to help them, setting up a bulwark against Russia abroad, not at home.

No Time To Waste
Because that is his policy, Mr. Truman has the job of answering this other viewpoint and trying to win popular opinion to his side.

In the past month the tide against him seems to have gathered force. In that time Mr. Truman has made no attempt to answer it at length or in detail. It seems unlikely he can ignore it in his Monday address.

For it is in that address that he must point out the direction in which he thinks the country should travel.

At this moment opinion in the Senate is divided, it seems, on foreign policy. In other days such a division may have not been important, at least as important as now.

For now this country doesn't have the sweet luxury of time to make up its mind or pick up the marbles and try again if a small mistake has been made. Every mistake counts and each one may be the one that ends in disaster.

Iron Mountain Calls For $20,000 To Land Olympic Ski Trials

LANSING — (P) — Representative James Goulette (R-Iron Mountain) today had a bill before the legislature to appropriate $20,000 to aid Dickinson county in staging the Olympic ski trials at Iron Mountain this winter.

"This is a big undertaking," Goulette said, "that the county should not have to handle alone. The state will get advertising that could not be bought for the money."

Man-Made Avalanche Takes Lives Of 132

LIMA, Peru — (P) — A total of 132 bodies had been recovered early today from the rocky debris of a man-made avalanche Wednesday in the Andes near the coastal town of Chimbote.

The workers, clearing an area covered by a natural avalanche last October, were trapped by the explosion of a dynamite charge they thought was a dud.

that Diggs still is on parole from a 1944 sentence for graft conspiracy in the 1941 legislature.

The senate business committee, which is studying resolutions to vacate both senate seats, said it would probe Wednesday into the circumstances surrounding Diggs' parole last summer in time to permit him to run for the senate at the September primaries.

Diggs yesterday paid the state treasury $980 for the cost of his room and board in prison while serving his sentence. The bill had been prepared by the former auditor general at the request of former Senator Bruce M. Clothier North Branch Republican, under a law which permits the state to seek recovery of the cost of prison confinement from persons financially able to pay it.

Evacuation Of Korea Would Open Way For U. S. To Help Chiang

By ELTON C. FAY

AP Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON — (P) — If American forces pull out of Korea—a possibility now moving toward a probability—the prolonged argument here over full-scale aid to Chinese Nationalists on Formosa may be resolved quickly.

Abandonment of Korea would leave strategists with two choices: To rest the Pacific defense perimeter on Japan or to join actively with Nationalist Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in establishing an outer bastion of the line close to the shores of Communist-held China.

Invasion Changes Picture
United States policy now, as fixed by President Truman and the state department, is to give only enough equipment and military aid to enable the Nationalists to maintain an adequate defense against possible attack from the Communist mainland. There are no American troops, planes or ships based in Formosa.

This policy has been challenged in some congressional quarters and has figured prominently in criticism of state department policy from these Capitol Hill quarters.

Back of this current policy has been the reasoning that full aid to Chiang might involve the United States in open, direct war with China.

But when masses of Chinese troops swarmed into Korea to intervene and fight American soldiers, new angles of the picture began to evolve.

Now there is speculation that if the Chinese Reds drive UN forces out of South Korea, the case of aggression against the Communists may be so strong that there no longer can be reason for giving only minimum assistance to the Nationalists on Formosa.

Blockade Possible
That assistance, however, might mean that American ground forces would engage Chinese Communist armies unless the Reds gambled on an invasion of Formosa.

Instead, it could assume a form of tight naval blockade of Communist ports, warship and aircraft bombardment of Communist cities within reach of forces based on Formosa, substantial help in additional air and ground equipment for Chiang's forces

Group In UN Favors New Appeal To Halt Chinese Red Attack

By GEORGE BRIA
LAKE SUCCESS — (P) — United Nations non-Communist delegates appeared split into two camps today as the assembly's political committee considered its next moves in the Korean crisis.

The United States and some other delegations went ahead with plans to seek a formal U. N. condemnation of Red China as an aggressor. Some of the Asian and Middle East countries, however, were understood to favor making another appeal to the Chinese to halt the fighting before discussing any stronger measures.

U. S. sources said that while the American delegation was standing firm on the necessity of a U. N. condemnation, there was little likelihood that a denunciatory resolution would be introduced when the political committee meets at 3 p. m. (EST) today.

A U. S. spokesman said many

Retail Prices Of Food Near All-Time Peak

WASHINGTON — (P) — Retail food prices nosed upward during the first half of December almost to the all-time peak of July 1948.

This was reported by the bureau of labor statistics today as farm belt congressmen protested in advance against an anticipated request from President Truman to let him put his own controls on farm prices.

Farmer Protected
Democrats and Republicans alike predicted that congress wouldn't go along with any proposal which might result in lower prices for farmers. They said lower prices would mean smaller production at a time when the nation needs more food.

The BLS reported a rise of 1.2 per cent in retail food prices between Nov. 28 and Dec. 15. The price index was estimated at 216.3 per cent of the 1935-39 average. That was within 0.2 per cent of the all-time record of 216.8.

The new index was 3.2 per cent above the previous month and 5.7 per cent higher than on June 15, before the Korean war started. It was up 9.6 per cent from a year ago.

Eggs Take Jump
Prices of 50 foods were studied in eight cities: Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Columbus, New York, Richmond, San Francisco and Washington. Almost all classes of retail food items were found to have increased in price.

Eggs, for example, went up 14.2 per cent in the eight cities com-

Tabloid Irked By Fake News

London Paper Calls U. S. Reports False

LONDON — (P) — London's tabloid Daily Mirror, which claims a circulation of 4,500,000, today rebelled against what it called "fantastic" communiques by the U. S. Air Force in Korea.

Under a headline "silly headquarters handouts on the Korean war," the Mirror ran a front-page editorial asserting that figures on Red troops killed by Allied planes were "completely valueless" and "almost always false."

The Mirror cited a summary yesterday by Maj. Gen. Earle E. Partridge, commander of the U. S. Fifth Air Force, on results of operations by American pilots.

The summary, the Mirror said, claimed 450 Communists were killed in northwestern Seoul by 250 more were cut down by Mustang pilots and 1,000 killed, or wounded in 59 Communist-held towns.

The Mirror commented: "These estimates, coming from pilots travelling at over 400 miles an hour, are completely valueless, because they are almost always false."

"They are worse than false. They are dangerous. It is now becoming glaringly obvious that factual, unsensational news about what is really happening in Korea is essential. . . ."

Gangland Boss In Senate Quiz

Successor To Capone Shy On Answers

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON — (P) — Dapper Anthony J. (Tony) Accardo, reputed Chicago underworld gambling boss, refused today to tell Senate investigators about his income and associates. The senators voted to cite him for contempt.

Accardo slouched in the witness chair with his hands folded and declined, during a two-hour public hearing, to answer most of the questions put to him. Many of the inquiries dealt with bookie operations in Chicago and Miami.

Claiming constitutional protection, Accardo contended the answers might tend to incriminate him, or were not pertinent to the Senate crime committee's investigation of organized interstate gambling.

Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.), the committee chairman, characterized Accardo in advance of the hearing as "one of the foremost men in the interstate gambling world."

Kefauver told reporters the Chicago hearings showed that one of Accardo's latest ventures is in a numbers racket in Chicago in partnership with Jake (Greasy Thumb) Guzik, another reputed bigshot in the Capone syndicate.

The committee has obtained audited records disclosing that the partnership reported an income of $278,000 in 1948, Kefauver said.

Kefauver said the Chicago hearings also brought out that Accardo apparently put up part of the money for the Chicago gang to muscle in on the now defunct multi-million dollar S & G Bookie Syndicate in Miami Beach.

Accardo reportedly was questioned about these and other matters by a Cook county (Chicago) grand jury on Wednesday but declined to answer on the ground that he might incriminate himself.

Two Bodies Found From Missing Tug In Lake Erie Ice

DUNKIRK, N. Y. — (P) — The bodies of two men believed to have been members of the 12-man crew of the missing tug Sachem were found today.

The bodies were frozen in ice along the Lake Erie shore near Evans, about halfway between here and Buffalo. No immediate identification was possible. Near the spot a lifebelt from the Sachem was picked up about five days after the 80-foot diesel tug disappeared Dec. 18.

Meanwhile, another attempt to locate the Sachem was under way as the salvage tug Iceberg and the U. S. Coast Guard icebreaker Tulepe headed here to take over the search.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — (P) — Manager Red Rolfe of the Detroit Tigers is one of three sports figures who will receive gold keys from the Connecticut Sports Writers' alliance.

Rolfe was named for the honor with Neal Ball, credited with baseball's first unassisted triple play, and Ray Oosting, a basketball authority.

The trio was selected for service to sports in this state. They will be honored at the 10th annual banquet at nearby Cheshire Jan. 29.

Rolfe formerly coached baseball and basketball at Yale.

Enemy Throws 210,000 Into Wonju Battle

Retreating UN Army In Desperate Race

TOKYO — (P) — Swarms of Chinese Red troops pushed on southward tonight and menaced Wonju, important Allied escape highway center 55 miles east of Seoul.

General MacArthur's headquarters said seven Communist armies—perhaps 210,000 men—are moving from the Chunchon area toward Wonju.

They apparently aim to destroy United Nations forces there and then wheel west in an attempt to cut off Eighth army units retreating down from ruined Seoul.

Vehicles Clog Roads
Allied pilots said they saw the heaviest traffic yet observed in Korea behind the enemy lines. They reported 1,200 vehicles clogging North Korean roads.

The Allies in a skillful retreat had yielded Seoul, its air field at Kimpo and the port of Inchon. At Inchon U. N. units blasted docks and the tidal basin, then left by sea. The main body of U. N. troops moved on southward by land.

Four cut-off South Korean divisions broke through Communist road blocks and reached U. N. lines north of Wonju Thursday after a four-day battle. With the Koreans safely back, U. N. lines were drawn closer around Wonju.

Rides Out On Tide
Chinese troops pouring down secondary roads and through valleys could turn left or right at Wonju and possibly cut off parts of the allied forces.

It was a desperate race. Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway, U. S. Eighth Army commander, returned to his headquarters late in the day after visiting two of his Army Corps defending the retreat.

"Everything is going fine," he said.

But the tough Army general said the retreat from Seoul was dwarfed by the tragedy of hundreds of thousands of Koreans unable to get out ahead of the oncoming Communists.

The last U. N. elements, port and service personnel at burning Inchon, blew up the harbor at 2 a. m. Friday and rode out on the morning tide.

Capital In Ruins
U. N. planes already were bombing Seoul and Kimpo, its

Heart Ailment Fatal To Ray O. Brundage, Bank Group Official

LANSING — (P) — Ray O. Brundage, 69, executive manager of the Michigan Bankers association for the past 16 years, died at a Lansing hospital last night of a heart ailment.

A native of Kalamazoo, he was educated in public schools there. In 1910 he became associated with the City Savings Bank of Kalamazoo and later became assistant to the president. In 1918 he was named secretary of the Kalamazoo Chamber of Commerce and served until 1923 when he helped organize the Brundage Roofing Co. of Kalamazoo.

From 1931 to 1933 he was state commissioner of pardons and paroles under Republican Governor Wilbur M. Brucker. He was named executive manager of the Michigan Bankers Association in 1934.

New State Levies Sure This Year, Soo Solon Says

LANSING — (P) — Speaker of the House Victor A. Knox, Sault Ste. Marie Republican and influential legislative leader, said today he believed new state taxes will be approved by the 66th legislature.

Knox's comment followed Governor Williams' message to the legislature Thursday. Williams again asked for enactment of a state corporation profits tax to "balance the budget."

Williams' message got a mixed reception, but a number of prominent Republican lawmakers commented on its "conciliatory" tone.

Higgins Says No
"I agree," Knox said, "that taxation will be a major problem of this legislature. Some form of new taxation will probably come out of this session. Restrictions on buying are going to affect the sales tax adversely and that is our major source of revenue."

Knox said "I feel there will have to be new taxes, but I still don't know what form they will take."

Senator George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale), chairman of the Senate Taxation committee which blocked all new tax bills in the past two years, said again flatly: "There will be no new taxes as far as I am concerned."

However, he added he would not oppose a one-cent-on-a-gallon increase in the gasoline tax if the cities would get more road money.

Higgins reiterated his announced intention of sponsoring legislation to eliminate industrial processing exemptions now granted under the sales tax law.

Keeps Brakes On
This, Higgins said, would bring $30,000,000 additional revenue into the state treasury each year.

"If the legislature does all the governor wants it to do," he said, "we'll need a lot of new taxes. But I'm still going to keep the brakes on."

Senator Clarence A. Reid (R-Detroit) said he thought Governor Williams' program was "reasonable" and that he believed new taxes would be necessary to finance higher costs at state institutions. Reid is a member of the Taxation committee.

Senator Frank Andrews (R-Hillman) called Williams' message a "good one." "I noticed a will for cooperation compared to the dictatorial tone of two years ago. He left the gate open for agreement."

Seating Of Parolee Debated In Lansing

LANSING — (P) — Speculation arose strongly in the capital today that the senate next week may seat senator-elect Anthony J. Wilkowski but not senator-elect Charles C. Diggs. The fitness of the two Detroit Democrats to sit in the senate has been challenged.

The contest is based on the fact both have served prison sentences. Republican majority leaders indicated there were enough votes at hand to seat Wilkowski, largely because two previous senates have allowed him to take his seat unchanged. He was sentenced in 1936 to a four-to-five-year term for a vote fraud.

But the GOP leaders said sentiment seemed strong against seating Diggs, the only Negro elected to the chamber this year. The opposition clung to the fact

Cadet Flunks, Flies To Death

Stolen Ship Crashes Near Texas Town

CALDWELL, Tex. — (P) — A young French cadet—heavy hearted because he couldn't win his wings—yesterday stole an Air Force plane and laughingly flew it to his death.

He flew until the T-6 training plane ran out of gas and crashed into a thicket near this central Texas town.

Capt. Alain Jourdan, a French liaison officer, said the cadet told him by radio: "I spend my last hours in the air and then I die."

A note indicating he intended to crash the plane was found just after he took off from Randolph air base near San Antonio and Jourdan said the cadet apologized to "the American Air Force for destroying this plane."

Jourdan, who flew alongside the cadet in another trainer in an effort to coax him down, said the cadet seemed in command of his emotions and "laughed many times."

Name of the cadet, at Randolph with other young Frenchmen for training under the North Atlantic pact, was withheld until next of kin could be notified.

Randolph officials said he had been downcast since failing as a pilot trainee.

City Approves Gas Contracts

$125,000 In Bonds Will Be Sold

Action on three matters pertaining to the proposed new propane gas plant for Escanaba were taken at the city council meeting last night.

The council adopted, under emergency proceedings making it effective immediately, an ordinance providing for the sale of 125 coupon bonds of $1,000 each to provide $125,000 for the construction of the new gas plant and improvement and extension of the city gas system.

The ordinance provides for taking of bids, date for which depends upon final approval by the Michigan public service commission of the bond proposal.

The bonds will be sold to bidder offering lowest interest rates. Shell Oil company of Minneapolis was awarded a contract to supply from 40,000 to 60,000 gallons of propane gas a month, delivery to be made when the plant is completed and in operation. The Minneapolis company's bid was 2 1/2 cents per gallon at Sheridan, Tex., and 2 3/4 cents at Tulsa, Okla.

Extend Tax Deadline
The council authorized the city manager to accept the bid of Lundstrom and Skubie of Chicago for engineering services in connection with the gas plant project, provided it did not exceed $5,960.20, the company's estimate.

Extension of time for payment of property taxes due Jan. 10 to Feb. 15 was approved.

The council voted to accept the low bid of Northern Motor company for a new police car. The company offered to provide a new, six-cylinder car for $821.25 and the present police car on which it offered $875 as trade-in value. The company also offered an alternate proposition of renting and leasing the car to the city for 1 1/4 cents per mile, with the company maintaining the automobile except for gasoline and oil. The city manager was instructed to study the latter proposal and to take whichever proposition appeared most advantageous to the city.

Jacobson Manufacturing company was given permission to construct a second floor over its finishing room to provide more space.

The council authorized the accounting department to clear $5,938.12 in "bad accounts" from its current books, authorized the writing off of obsolete stock valued at about $3,000 and authorized raising the doubtful account fund to $28,800.

Draft For Boys Of 18 Proposed

New Manpower Bill Goes To Congress

WASHINGTON — (P) — The defense department plans to ask Congress to let it draft 18-year olds and tighten deferments and exemptions for currently draft eligible men from 19 through 25.

Felix Larkin, the defense department's general counsel, told reporters today that a manpower bill would be submitted to Congress within two weeks designed to meet additional needs for men for the armed services.

Larkin said the plan is to extend the present 21-month service period for draftees to 27 or 30 months. He added, however, that this might be changed before the manpower bill reaches Congress. About 1,200,000 boys will reach 18 during the next fiscal year beginning July 1 and about 800,000 of these could be expected to meet physical requirements for military service, Larkin estimated.

The defense department proposal, he said, would permit 17-year olds to enlist with their parents' permission; 18-year olds would be automatically eligible for the draft as soon as they had completed high school. He added that those who reached 19 and were still in high school would "probably have to be yanked out."

Larkin said 18-year old draftees would not be sent overseas until after they had completed their full basic military training.

Parents of Son
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richard of Kalamazoo are the parents of a son, Bruce Joseph, their first child, born Tuesday, January 2. The baby, who weighed seven and one-half pounds, is the first grandchild of Mrs. Agnes Peterson of Perkins and of Joseph Richard of Brampton. The mother is the former Louise Peterson.

Personals
Karen Gibbs is spending part of her holiday vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Roberts of Rapid River.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tousignant and daughter Patsy of Iron Mountain and Miss Violet Tousignant, R. N., of Milwaukee spent the New Year's holidays at the Leo Godin home.

Mrs. Fred Koch of Argonne, Wis., and Miss Jane Strohm of Hobart, Ind., have returned home after spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nordstrom and Mr. and Mrs. John Fuhrman.

Misses Marie Mosier, Sylvia Gerou and Mary Ellen Godin returned Wednesday to Bloomington, Ill., where they are students at St. Joseph School of Nursing following a week's vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Mosier, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Godin and with Walter Gerou and daughter Judy.

Miss Margaret Peterson left Tuesday for a several days' visit that selfishness and money don't always bring the things wanted. Playing opposite him as Billie Dawn, his fiancée, was German-born Marion Brash, who was hired by the guild last year when she was seen in a student production of the modern comedy. Her interpretation of the "stupid" ex-chorus girl added much sparkle, and was on a level with the high calibre performances of other members in the troupe.

A young man who made his professional debut in "Charlie's Aunt" in 1946, Byrd Holland played the part of Paul Verrall, young writer who represents new thought, to the dismay of the millionaire Brock, who is eventually exposed by the young writer.

The role of Ed Devery, Brock's lawyer, was played by Wade Williams, who recently was seen on Broadway in "Apple of the Eye" with Walter Huston and in supporting roles opposite Faye Emerson and Richard Widmark. Williams' interpretation of the "finagling" lawyer who is the "judgment and intelligence for Brock for a 100 grand a year" was excellent.

Franklin George, veteran of 50 years before the footlights, enacted the part of Senator Hedges, who is bribed and pushed by Brock.

Though abounding in language not heard from the pious, the comedy scored well with the Escanaba audience, providing them with merit and a philosophic look at the ways of the world. Dialogue was handled discreetly, to portray the real meaning of situations, and was not used as a showpiece for vulgarity.

The play was the second presented this season by the drama guild. Yet to be seen is "I Like It Here," which will be presented March 29. The first play offered this season was "Harvey."

Health Services Reduced Because Of Cut In Funds

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, Michigan health commissioner, today notified local health departments of a reduction in services caused by a cut in funds. Either a state or federal appropriation would restore these services, he added. The reduction in service is occasioned by the federal 10 per cent cut in non-defense spending.

Necessary reductions in services were as follows:
Three of the state's five mobile x-ray units were taken out of service; notification of births to parents and the health department for the purpose of detecting errors is ended; field consultation in health education provided to local health departments, schools and community groups is abolished.

Public health nursing consultation provided local health departments to assist in the control of communicable diseases and the improvement of maternal and child health is reduced; as is the industrial health section for the protection of the health of industrial employees.

Only quantitative Kahn tests in the detection of venereal disease can be financed, and no Wasserman tests can be given. The department can no longer provide cultures for the detection of venereal disease or tuberculosis, and no more guinea pig inoculations in tuberculosis diagnosis, or streptomycin sensitivity testing of tuberculosis organisms will be provided.

BIBLICAL ERROR
The "Printers' Bible" was an edition published prior to 1702 in which the word printers mistakenly occurs, making the 161st verse of Psalm 119 read: "Printers (princes) have persecuted me without a cause."

with relatives and friends in Marquette and Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolor Gerou, sr. and daughter Charmaine visited New Year's Day with Mr. and Mrs. William Gerou and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Otlinger in Norway.

John Gibbs has resumed his studies at St. Norbert's college, West De Pere, Wis., after a holiday vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gibbs.

City Receives New Equipment

Line Truck, Sand Spreader Arrive

Delivery of a new sand spreader and electric line truck for the city of Escanaba was announced today by A. V. Aronson, city manager.

The sand spreader box, which will be used in putting sand, chloride and cinders on icy streets was purchased from S. C. Sleeper at Newberry for $1,203.50.

The city's new four-wheel drive line truck, which will be used for lifting light poles and hauling electrical equipment was obtained from Clintonville, Wis., for $9,491.75.

Both pieces of equipment represent additions to the city's maintenance departments.

The sand spreader box, equipped with a v-shaped conveyor which can cover all or half of a street with sand, requires only two men for operation. Received yesterday, the box will be mounted on a four-wheel drive truck on which the city also uses its tar distributor. The spreader has a capacity of nine cubic yards.

Purchase of the new electric truck will enable the electric department to send out two crews at a time.

Thus far this year, the city has spread 254 yards of sand and cinder and about 10 tons of chlor-ide on icy streets. The 254 yards spread since Thanksgiving is almost as much as the total used by the city in some years past.

Wells

Mr. and Mrs. Harry St. Cyr have returned from Appleton, Wis., where they spent the holidays with their son, Elmer St. Cyr.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Magnuson and children, Kenny, Jerry and Julie Ann, of Iron Mountain visited at the Dwayne Burak home over the weekend.

George Noel has returned from Thiensville, Wis., where he visited with Dwayne Lindsay, former residents of Wells, and with other friends.

Rapid River

Wellman - Feathers
RAPID RIVER—Miss Iola Mae Wellman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wellman of Rapid River, became the bride of Henry J. Feathers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Feathers of Nahma, at a ceremony performed Dec. 23.

Bridal attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hardwick of Sault Ste. Marie.

The bride wore an afternoon dress of silver grey and black accessories and her bridesmaid wore a blue and white ensemble.

A wedding reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Whipple, brother-in-law and sister of the bride.

The couple will live in Rapid River.

PLEASURE-PACKED PROGRAM PLANNED FOR FARM FAMILIES

To Be Guests of Farmer's Supply Local John Deere Implement Dealer on John Deere Day Jan. 18

No less than six brand new movies are on the program for the annual John Deere Day show to be held for farmers and their families on Jan. 18 at the Deltha Theatre, according to Farmers Supply, local John Deere dealer and sponsor of the affair. Farmers who have not yet received their tickets, reminds Mr. Knauf, may obtain them by calling for them at the Farmers Supply.

The feature picture of the day, "One Happy Family," stars Don DeFore and Marjorie Reynolds and is the story of a small-town family and the things that beset them when they win the title of "Family of the Year" in a contest conducted by a national magazine. Leading the

TO ISLAND COMMAND—Major Gen. Robert S. Beightler, above, wartime commander of Ohio's 37th Infantry Division, has been assigned to head the Ryukyus Command with headquarters on Okinawa. Formerly head of the Marianas-Bonins Command on Guam, Beightler will double as deputy governor of the Ryukyus Islands. General MacArthur is governor.

Defense Production Board Soon To Be Major U. S. Agency

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON — (P) — Within 120 days William H. Harrison's new Defense Production administration probably will be converted to a full-fledged, central industry-control agency modeled after the war production board of World War II.

A new federal building with 1,000,000 square feet of floor space, now being completed for the general accounting office, is being ear-marked instead for Harrison's production headquarters and its expected staff of several thousand persons.

By May 1, said officials who cannot be named, it is planned the various agencies in the regular government departments which now look to Harrison for policy guidance will be merged into his agency.

Cornell

Extension Club
CORNELL—The Happy Homemakers Extension club met at the home of Mrs. Russell Myers of Woodlawn for a lesson on modern mending given by Mrs. Bradway and Mrs. Reuhl. The meeting was followed by a pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. Meyers at which she received many pretty gifts. Pot luck lunch was served. The club will meet January 9 at the home of Mrs. Albert Kraus of Hendricks.

RED BARN

Most barns are painted red because, early in the last century, farmers recognized that natural earth pigments of the red iron oxide type were readily available and, when mixed with oil, made good, long-lasting paint.

Briefly Told

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Vandenberg, 1307 First avenue south, last night returned from Maywood, Ill., where they spent two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Dupuydt and family. Mrs. Dupuydt is their daughter.

Rev. and Mrs. John Gladstone Mills of Los Angeles, Calif., son-in-law and daughter of Alfred W. Teller, veteran C&NW streamliner conductor, are the parents of a son born New Year's day. The baby, named John Gladstone Mills III, is the first in the family and the first grandson of Mr. Teller. He weighed 7 pounds, 15 ounces when born at Good Samaritan hospital in Los Angeles. Mrs. Mills, whose husband is rector of a Los Angeles Episcopal church, is the former Margaret Teller of Green Bay.

Bark River Party — A twelfth night party will be held Saturday night at the Bark River skating rink. Boy Scouts will pick up Christmas trees tomorrow afternoon to burn at the party.

Costumes Needed — Those who have yellow flowered doll costumes are asked to return them at once to the Recreation Center as they are to be used in the ice revue.

Figure in Error — The total capital and surplus of the First National Bank of Escanaba is $500,000, not $5,000,000 as erroneously reported in a news story yesterday. The Daily Press regrets the error.

Wolverines Meet — Directors and members of the Wolverine Conservation association will hold a meeting at eight this evening in the study of the Central Methodist church, corner of First avenue South and South 13th street. All members are urged to attend.

Another Robin — Though the weather is cold, as everybody knows, some folks are beginning to wonder if an early spring is in the offing. This week, the C. Arthur Andersons, at 254 Lake Shore drive, joined the ranks of several in Delta county made glad by the sight of a robin, tradition-

Labor Relations Problems Discussed

Labor-management problems in Escanaba business and industry were discussed at length by the members of the Chamber of Commerce labor relations committee last night.

Suggestions for improving and strengthening the good labor-management relations now existing in local industry were discussed by representatives of business and industry and labor leaders.

Among suggestions presented were proposals to establish a la-

Lansing Senate Setup To Block Drastic Bills

LANSING—(AP)—There won't be much drastic legislation go through the Michigan Senate this year if the make-up of the chamber's new standing committee is any gauge. In the opinion of legislative observers the committee reflected complete Republican domination of all subjects and conservative G. O. P. control of committee likely to pass on controversial matters. The vital Senate business committee, through which must pass all of Governor Williams appointments, was entrusted to a freshman chairman, Senator Edward Hutchinson (R-Ferndale), who had a strong House record. The other committees are Republicans Harry F. Hittle of East Lansing, George N. Higgins of Ferndale, and Charles T. Prescott of Prescott, none of them pushovers. The lone Democrat is Patrick H. Walsh of Detroit.

No Tax Sponsors
The appropriations committee, formerly called to finance committee was left largely intact from last session under Senator Elmer R. Porter, (R-Elk Rapids). There are two Democrats on the 10-man committee.

The labor committee was left under Senator G. Elwood Bonine (R-Vandalia), plus Creighton R. Coleman of Battle Creek, Joseph P. Cloon of Wakefield, Hutchinson and one Democrat, Garland Lane of Flint. Bonine is one of the others of the Bonine-Tripp labor mediation law and Hutchinson of the Hutchinson act forbidding strikes by public employees.

The state affairs committee, graveyard of controversial bills in past sessions, is chaired by Senator Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids).

None of the members of the new taxation committee are "sponsors." Chairman is Senator George N. Higgins, of Ferndale, while the other Republicans are Clarence A. Reid of Detroit, Carlton H. Morris of Kalamazoo, and Charles R. Feenstra of Grand Rapids. The lone Democrat is Robert A. Haggerty of Detroit.

On With Attorneys
Strangely, Higgins was put on the judiciary committee which usually is exclusively made up of attorneys. He is an auto dealer.

MacInnis Retires From His Business At Rudyard, Sault

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich.—The operation of the Sault and Rudyard Feed stores is now under the management of his two sons, John MacInnis announced.

Effective Jan. 1, the MacInnis Feed Store in the Sault was turned over to the management of James MacInnis, while Willard MacInnis will take over the entire operation of the Rudyard Elevator and Feed Store Mr. MacInnis said.

For the past 19 years, Mr. MacInnis has provided farmers with a clearing house for their grain, and enabled them to get a good grain ground for their livestock.

Four years after opening the Rudyard Feed Store, he built a grain elevator, which he believes was the first and the only one of its type in the Upper Peninsula.

In 1940, a branch store was opened in the Sault, taking over the operation of the MacLachlan Brothers Feed Store. However, this store burned in 1942 and was rebuilt at its present location, 143 Arlington street, the same year.

In 1949, four grain elevators were added to the capacity of the Sault store, enabling larger quantities of grain to be stored.

He pointed out that his son James has been with him at the Sault store for the past five years. He started work at the Sault following his release from the Armed Service after World War II. Willard has been operating the Rudyard store for the past fifteen years, he added.

His present plans call for a winter vacation in Florida, and he plans to leave the Sault about Saturday, Jan. 13, returning to the Sault about May 1.

Enroute to Florida, Mr. MacInnis plans to stop over in Detroit for a conference with the Michigan State Fair Board.

He is chairman of the Upper Peninsula Fair Board.

It is expected that plans will be made for the 1951 annual fall fair which is held in Escanaba.

On his return to this area in the spring, Mr. MacInnis will spend part of his time at his cabin in Sugar Island.

However, his sons said that "Dad will probably be asked for technical advice once in a while, for he knows the business inside out, and there are many times when we will need his expert advice."

Whealkate Copper Mine Began 100 Years Ago

HOUGHTON, Mich.—The year 1950 is now just a number. A new year is already fast establishing itself above the horizon. But, although, what we do in the present and in the future is what counts most, it is appropriate occasionally, to glance back into the past just to vision what was taking place in the Keweenaw country exactly a century ago. Here's the picture in the year 1851.

In 1851, copper prospects in the vicinity of Portage lake were so encouraging that Ransom Sheldon moved his store business from Portage Entry to the Quincy mine site, a property which had been originally discovered in 1846 and which, during the summers of 1847-48, saw extensive work being performed.

In the fall of 1851, Walter W. Palmer began building a road to Whealkate "mountain." He began not far from the Bosch Brewing Co. site and by the time he reached the bluff, a total of four miles of road had been constructed. Forthwith was organized the Whealkate Mining Co. Most of the stockholders were New York people who were then interested in Keweenaw county's Albion mine.

Agent Palmer's first endeavor was to sink a shaft in the sand of the bluff which he soon was forced to abandon due to an excessive amount of water. He afterwards sank a shaft in the rock and hoped by drifting to strike a fissure vein.

All provisions for the party working at the bluff came from the Entry in Mackinaw boats. During the 1851-52 winter, he sent a worker by the name of McGee to the Quincy mine location to get supplies which were much needed. The latter broke through the ice while crossing Portage lake and was drowned. Inasmuch as this was the first death among the white folks then residing in the region, there was considerable lamentation.

Complicated Mining
Incidentally, the Whealkate company had as one of its organizers a Dr. S. S. Walbank. His wife's name was Kate. For this reason, the mine was called Whealkate or Wheel Kate, wheal being the Cornish equivalent for the word mine.

Early historians in the Copper Country have characterized the South Range community's early mining ventures as the best example of the "how not to do it" system of mining. It was also stated that the mine should have been dug up bodily and preserved "for engraving upon the intellect of those who would be admonished."

As indicated, the first shaft was abandoned. Then a shaft was sunk in trap rock for some 40 feet. A drift was dug in a southerly direction for about 20 feet. Following this an incline shaft was sunk for a total of 50 feet. From the bottom of this excavation a crosscut was extended 100 feet to a copper lode, where a drift was sent southerly for a distance of 50 feet. At the end of this drift a winze was sunk 40 feet. After that, they dropped the matter.

Today, all that remains as evidence of the "mine" started 100 years ago is a small indentation. There isn't even a rock pile to attest the proportions the property assumed. And South Range village isn't planning a centennial observance!

Copper Dividends
Notwithstanding, here's the way the anniversary years contributed dividends on copper mining shares up to the turn of the century.

Crime Decline Is Noted Here

Prisoners At Jail Fewer In 1950

Fewer crimes were committed in Delta county in 1950 than in 1949, according to the number of prisoners jailed, it is revealed in a comparison of annual report figures released today from the office of Sheriff William E. Miron.

Last year the number of prisoners jailed totaled 340, or 26 less than the year before.

This reduction did not take place in the youngest age group, however, for there were nine more youths 17 to 21 jailed last year than in 1949. In 1950 the 17 to 21 bracket was represented by 49 prisoners, while the year before saw a total of 40 jailed.

The largest reduction for any age group was in those age 21 to 30. While 112 in this group were jailed in 1949, the number dropped to 77 last year. The number of prisoners in other age groups stayed approximately the same, with 76 in the 30 to 40 class; 63 in the 40 to 50; 39 in the 50 to 60; and 36 in the 60-and-over bracket.

The prisoners were held in jail under a variety of charges, ranging from petty larceny to forgery, rape and breaking and entering.

Crimes of violence were practically absent. There were no murders or attempted murders, no crimes of robbery armed or arson. But there were 12 assault and battery cases.

Topping the list is the number of disorderly cases, a total of 122; followed by 49 persons jailed for violations of the motor laws; 25 for drunk driving; and 12 for violations of the state conservation laws. During the year 18 women were confined in jail.

either under sentence or awaiting arraignment in court, and 25 insane persons were temporarily confined before admittance to institutions.

In other work in 1950 the sheriff's department investigated a total of 449 complaints. Twenty-five accidents were investigated, 27 accidents were reported to the office, officers assisted in the recovery of bodies in two drownings, and 32 guns were registered.

In other work during the year the sheriff's department issued a total of 3,264 applications for automobile operators and chauffeurs licenses following examinations. The officers also gave on-the-road driving tests to 355 beginners.

Poultry And Farm Building Problem Meeting Is Called

Delta county farmers with poultry or farm building problems are invited to attend a meeting to be held at 1:30 p. m. Monday Jan. 8, at Flat Rock town hall, it was announced today by J. L. Heirman, county agricultural agent.

J. M. Moore, extension specialist in poultry, will discuss poultry problems, including egg and meat production, control of diseases and insects, and proper housing of the flock.

George Amundson, extension specialist in farm buildings, will confer with farmers who plan remodeling or farm building construction. He will have information on pen type barns.

Farmers are asked to present specific problems for discussion.

Detroit Shakes Up Its Election Boards

THE dismissal of 440 careless election workers in Detroit as a result of gross, almost fantastic mistakes in the November election has been announced by Detroit officials. In addition, more than 9,000 other election workers have been informed by letter that a drastic reorganization of precinct boards is contemplated.

These are the direct results of disclosures of major errors in the November election, brought to light by the close scrutiny of votes made necessary by the extremely tight contest for governor.

It was revealed, for instance, that no less than 29 precinct boards in the City of Detroit failed completely to tally the straight votes for Republican and Democratic parties. This one error alone accounted for a discrepancy of 8,800 votes between the unofficial and official results.

It is obvious that the election was conducted sloppily in Detroit, but the recount showed inexcusable errors of similar magnitude in many election precincts elsewhere in the state. Revision of election boards will not be confined to the City of Detroit.

Even those areas which came through the recount with clean slates have gained much as a result of the election disclosures that developed from the Kelly-Williams contest. Election officials in all areas of Michigan must surely be impressed with the necessity for making certain that every person working on an election board is thoroughly familiar with his duties and his obligations, and particularly that every election worker is familiar with the election laws.

Guided Missile Work Should Have Priority

NO military man belittles the value of the atomic bomb. But more than a few of them persistently declare that it should not be regarded as a "new" weapon. As they see it, it's just a much bigger bomb.

The military's greatest enthusiasm these days is reserved for something else—the guided missile. The idea of delivering an explosive more or less exactly on target from distances ranging from a few hundred feet to perhaps 1000 miles is revolutionary.

There aren't any guided missiles capable of use at long distances yet. And only our high military men know what we have developed at shorter range. But indications are plentiful that this research has the highest kind of priority in our planning.

Air Secretary Thomas Finletter recently told a congressional group that guided missiles are our greatest hope for effective air defense of the American mainland. Without them, he declared flatly, we can't count on keeping more than a fair percentage of enemy aircraft away from our cities.

Great faith is placed on a guided artillery missile, too. Before the Korean war some promising things were said about this type of weapon. But now, not surprisingly, a veil of complete secrecy has been drawn over this project.

Earlier evidence shows, furthermore, that extensive experimenting with long-range guided missiles has been going on. This is possibly the toughest aspect of the problem, and progress likely is still slow.

The United States brought over some German specialists who had worked on the Nazis V-1 and V-2 weapons. Neither of these can be considered "guided" missiles, but research on them was basic to the more advanced weapons.

All these efforts have acquired marked urgency not alone because of their inherent value in the minds of our military men, but because the Russians are also believed to be pushing guided missile work at a fast pace.

We've all done much worrying about whether the Soviet Union has the atomic bomb in any quantity. If our top soldiers are right, we might be as much or more concerned over their development of guided missiles. The experts don't believe the wild rumors that they have a weapon which can be fired 3,000 miles. But they are troubled by the prospect the Reds may have one capable of effective use from the decks of submarines or battleships.

Sister's Phoning

Sister always has some home work which the teacher has assigned, and she often finds it hard to face the evening study grind. At her desk, with books and papers, she is loath to get to work, though you tell her that her problems are a task she cannot shirk. But ere long she finds her algebra is easy to postpone, for it seems she'd much prefer to spend the evening on the phone.

So in jeans and sloppy sweater, she appropriates the hall, and she lounges on the floor in preparation for her call. It's her girl friend down the block that she decides to give a ring, and you're sure that in their lengthy chat, they didn't miss a thing. Though you try to read your paper, some remarks you overhear, and you gather that some current beau is really quite a dear.

Then she calls another number and again she speaks with glee, and it's obvious another chum can talk as well as she. They would gab all night, and daytime too, of campus kings and queens, and you marvel at the chatter of a youngster in her teens. And when next there comes an evening which you spend at home alone, you discover what you miss the most is Sister on the phone.

Merry-Go-Round "Thanks for the Lift, Sam!"

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—In capitol cloakrooms, conservative and liberal senators alike are alarmed at the sinister forces which conspired against Ann Rosenberg, who after a venomous smear campaign has now been confirmed unanimously as assistant secretary of defense. When analyzed, these forces take on the semblance of "the great conspiracy" of Hitler's terrorist regime.

The fact that such Southern Democrats as Byrd of Virginia and Russell of Georgia, plus such conservative Republicans as Cain of Washington, helped expose the conspiracy, as a wholesome sign that the U. S. Senate will not stand for religious prejudice—even when one of its own members appeared to be involved.

The story of the great conspiracy would read more like fiction if it were not officially documented.

Mrs. Rosenberg, whose annual income as labor adviser to the Rockefeller, the Macy department store and others averaged around $250,000, gave up this income for a salary of $10,000 as assistant secretary in charge of the defense department's labor and manpower problems.

Up for confirmation by the Senate, she was accused of being a former Communist member of the John Reed club and for days her name with its alleged Communist connection was featured in the headlines. Those who played a part in this conspiracy, directly or indirectly, were: rabble-rouser Gerald L. K. Smith; Benjamin Freedman, an ex-Jew and would-be Catholic who has been barred from the church; Ralph De Sola, an ex-Communist; Senator McCarthy, who sent his investigators to New York to gather evidence regarding Mrs. Rosenberg; and radio commentator Fulton Lewis who also sent his legman to New York on the same errand.

ARMS PEDDLERS

Freedman, it developed, is employed by the Arab league to obtain arms for Moslem countries, and Senator Kefauver of Tennessee read two interesting cablegrams into page 157 of the Senate record. One cable, addressed to Ahmed Hussein, head of the young Egypt party, stated:

"Dearest Brother. Letter received. Attending everything requested, very busy United Nations situation. Writing fully this week. Extend eminence wishes for continued vision, courage, strength, struggle on behalf justice his people. Giving him fullest cooperation. Family send love to all."

His "eminence" was identified as the Mufti of Jerusalem, subsidized by Hitler during the war to stir up anti-Jewish hatred. Another cable addressed to Tri-Ocean in Bombay, read: "Have negotiated immediate establishment Pakistan Thompson submarine gun factory."

It was this same Freedman who put Fulton Lewis's legman and Senator McCarthy's investigator in touch with ex-Communist Ralph DeSola, the chief witness against Mrs. Rosenberg. Apparently they posed as representatives of the Senate armed services committee. For page 49 of the Senate committee testimony reads:

SENATE AGENTS?

Senator Russell: Who were the members of this committee that you discussed it (Mrs. Rosenberg's confirmation) with? De Sola: The gentleman was introduced to me as one of the investigators of your committee.

Sen. Russell: Was he a member of the committee or an investigator?

De Sola: He was an investigator.

Sen. Russell: Did he tell you he was an investigator or an investigator?

De Sola: Yes, sir, he said he was an investigator for the armed services committee of the Senate of the United States.

Sen. Russell: And you don't recall his name?

De Sola: He came with a Mr. Nellor (Fulton Lewis's legman). . . I assumed he was a member of your group.

Sen. Russell: They told you they were investigators for the Senate committee on armed services?

De Sola: Yes, sir.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

READERS' CORNER

Oakland: A friend, who claims to have been educated in France, pronounced bric-a-brac as "brick-uh-brah." Is there any authority for such a pronunciation?—K. A.

A. None whatever. The correct French is bric-à-brac, almost bric-uh-brack. The correct English is bric-uh-brack.

Mariposa: I frequently hear people say "in regards to" something or other. I feel it isn't correct.—Mrs. C. R. McC.

A. It is not good usage. Better say: In regard to; with regard to; regarding.

Troy: Our argument is about the word ghetto. Is the "g" like "j," or hard as in "get."—B. W.

A. All English words beginning with gh have the hard "g," as in ghastly, ghost, gherkin, ghetto. Ghetto is an Italian word which originally meant that part of a city (in Italy) in which Jews were forced to live. My Italian dictionary states that ghetto is from the Hebrew ghet, "to separate; to divorce." Pronounce it: GHET-oh.

Norfolk: What, please, is a trivet?—Mrs. G. S.

A. Originally a trivet was a three-legged stand or tripod of metal for holding a kettle or pot near the fire. The word is from tri-, "three," plus pedis, "foot." Nowadays a trivet is a decorative metal plate with very short legs for use under a hot dish at the table. They are used chiefly as ornaments. Pronounce it: TRIV-it.

Hattiesburg: Why don't we pronounce the "s" in the word island?—T. C.

A. Actually, the "s" should not be in the word. The original word was the Anglo-Saxon island, which entered Middle English as island. The "s" got into the word by confusion with the Old French isle, an unrelated word. The "s" of isle is also due to confusion with isle.

A barber advertises, "The haircut that doesn't look like a haircut." Sounds like a lot of trouble to go to for a shaggy neck.

Chiang Kai-Shek's Big Army May Finally Join With United Nations

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

AP Foreign Affair Analysis

Why is it that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist forces aren't allowed to engage Chinese Communists now that Red China is in the war?

News editor Louis Sinclair of the Battle Creek (Mich.) Enquirer and News wants an answer to that. It's a good question, almost too good, because it has to do with a delicate situation about which the United Nations and its military command in Eastern Asia haven't done much talk. However, the Chinese Communist intervention in the Korean war is bound to alter that.

To begin at the beginning. The U. N. Security Council in its resolution of last July 7 called for the creation of the U. N. army to resist North Korean aggression—and placed responsibility for this unified command in the hands of Washington, operating through General MacArthur. The U. N. retired to the background.

Importance of Formosa

When Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek offered 30,000 troops from his vast Formosan army for Korea, the offer was turned down. Why? Well, one reason certainly was based on Formosa's strategic value. MacArthur wanted Chiang's forces to defend Formosa at all costs.

It will be recalled that the strategic importance of Formosa was emphasized in MacArthur's sensational message to the Veterans of Foreign Wars last August. He described Formosa as a key spot in a "natural" defense line of islands in the Pacific from which "we can dominate with air power every Asiatic port from Vladivostok to Singapore."

That was one seemingly good reason, but there was another which was rather soft-pedaled. This was that: the use of Chinese Nationalist troops in Korea might produce quick intervention by the Chinese Communists with their millions of fighting men. It might precipitate another World war.

Nobody in the U. N. or in Washington or in Korea wanted to talk much about these political considerations which were so potentially dangerous. The situation was made more delicate by the fact that Britain—one of the paramount western allies—had recognized the Red government in Peking.

The picture takes on a different complexion, however, with the assault by a titanic army of a million and a quarter Red Chinese on the relatively small U. N. Korean force which may total about 250,000. The Peking Communist government claims these soldiers are "volunteers," but that story no longer will wash. Communist China is in the war.

Less Shadow Boxing

Therefore I believe we are likely to see the Western powers and the United Nations as a whole taking a more forceful stand. There will be less shadow boxing. As a matter of fact the subject was due for discussion in the U. N. general assembly's political committee at Lake Success today. One of the items on the agenda was a demand from the United States for strong action against Communist China as a result of the new push south of the 38th parallel.

It was anticipated America would make a minimum demand that the U. N. brand the Chinese Reds as aggressors. This would pave the way for possible sanctions—economic or more stringent—against the Peking government. Thus the situation would seem to be developing in such a direction that Chiang's Formosan fighting men may ultimately be brought into play against the Reds after all. That army is a powerful item in the world position, for the Generalissimo is said to have a total force of 580,000 soldiers, plus 120,000 airforce and naval effectives.

Federal Government Will Help Build Bomb Shelters

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(7)—Congress seems to have settled the problem of bombshelters without a major explosion. Very neatly done.

It had to consider the bombshelter business before it passed a bill this week to set up a national civil defense program. This much was clear all along: The government was going to have to chip in money to help cities and states build shelters where needed.

So, in the next three years, with the blessing of congress, the government will have $1,250,000,000 of this chip-in money to spend on shelters.

(In turn, cities and states will have to match with money of their own every cent they get from the government, penny for penny.)

For example: if it's agreed a certain shelter will cost $500,000, the government will put up $250,000 and a state $250,000.

Shelter - Garage

So far everything seems just clear and simple. No trouble. No problem, really. But then the whole thing got mixed up with the traffic problem.

A city with bad traffic jams could relieve itself quite a bit if it built a huge parking garage.

But how nice it would be, in more ways than one, if a city could build a combination shelter-garage. You can see why:

Long after the emergency passed, if it passed, the city still could use the garage for parking. More than that.

In time the garage would pay for itself since every motorist who parked there would have to pay a fee.

Such a garage would be a self-liquidating project, as business-men say.

But you can see how doubly nice it would be if the federal government chipped in to help a city build a combination shelter-garage, thus relieving a traffic problem and a shelter problem.

But congress hemmed-and-hawed over the idea of letting a city have government money to build itself a self-liquidating project.

So, to be sure on this point, Congress wrote into the law a flat warning that none of the money could be used for self-liquidating projects.

Still, strangely enough, cities will be able to get some of that federal money to turn garages into bombshelters.

Seem like a contradiction? Well, try it another way:

Take San Francisco as an example: That city won't be able to go to the government and say: "We want to build a combination shelter-garage that will cost $10,500,000. So you put up half and we'll put up half."

But San Francisco can put this proposition to the government: "We want to build a big garage that will cost $10,000,000. For another $500,000 we can fix it so that it will be a bombshelter, too."

In a case like that, under the law, the government can give San Francisco $20,000,000—provided the city puts up the other half of the $20,000,000.

Although the garage itself, if built by the city of San Francisco, might pay for itself in a few years through parking fees, the government would still have to build a bombshelter, which a self-liquidating project.

Its help would have been limited to making the self-liquidating spot bomb-proof.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH—In this mechanized age the horse is better known in the movies and on the race track than on the farm. Yet the Office of Defense Manpower has classified the work of the blacksmith as essential, rendering them militarily draftproof, and bringing to light the fact that the village smithy is still active in the ancient craft.

So far as we know, however, there is no village blacksmith in Delta county. Just who does the shoeing of the estimated 1,000 horses in Delta county (if they are shod at all) is not only a mystery to us but also to J. L. "Joe" Hierman, county agricultural agent.

"I don't know," Joe admitted, when asked to name Delta county farriers. "Most of the horses on the farms are in pasture or work on soft ground and I believe few of them are shod any more."

The answer may be that the blacksmith has taken to the road in order to maintain his horseshoeing business, loading his forge, anvil and hammer on a truck and traveling about the country in pursuit of the vanishing horse. One-eighth of the nation's farriers now have such routes, notes the National Geographic Society.

GOING DOWN—The Machine Age has tapered the ranks of the blacksmith and the horse.

Delta county once had several thousand horses and a score or more blacksmiths. Horses were used in logging and on the farms. Now untiring tractors have largely replaced them both in the woods and in the field.

The 1945 federal farm census revealed that of a total 1,492 farms in Delta county, only 809 still had horses. The horses numbered 1,616, or an average of about two horses to each of the 809 farms. The census term horse, incidentally, includes not only horses but also all colts and ponies.

SENTIMENTAL REASONS—Farm census figures for 1930 have not yet been released, but the county agent is convinced the number of horses will show a further decline in Delta county.

Many of the horses now in Delta county farms are living off the fat of the land and doing little or nothing to earn their keep. They are kept for sentimental reasons, falling more into the category of pets than livestock. Families that quickly dispose of pigs and chickens will hesitate when it comes to sending Dobbin to the glue factory. The old oat burner is often a useless but respected link with the past.

OLD TIME CRAFT—Historians have not yet been able to determine where the blacksmith craft originated. It could be Asia, Egypt, or among the Negroes of Africa, for they were known to have had metal experts at a very early date.

And why are they called blacksmith? Because that differentiates them from the whitesmith—who worked in tin while the blacksmith worked iron or "black metal."

The smithy had many metal-working tasks, but he did not become associated with the horse until the second century B. C. when the Romans first devised the metal horseshoe.

MAN OF KNOWLEDGE—The proper shoeing of a horse may soon become a lost art.

The metal shoe must fit the circumference of the horse's hoof, projecting slightly beyond the heel, and be held with as few nails as possible. Jumping horses must be fitted with shoes that balance their feet and gait, show horses with heavy shoes to encourage high stepping, and work horses with toe and heel calks to insure foothold.

The modern blacksmith has one advantage, however, that reduces his workload. Manufacturers in this country turn out 300,000 sizes and weights of horseshoes that the smith can bend, fit and nail to the hoof as the case requires.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba — The first entry blank submitted for the fourth annual Bay de Noc skating meet scheduled Jan. 11-12, was that of Bob Heckenback, senior men's winner from last year.

Gladstone—Fred D. Hoover, Jr., recently passed entrance requirements for the U. S. Naval academy school. Hoover, who holds a private pilot's license, took the tests at Minneapolis. He plans to enter naval training next spring, after completing his courses at Houghton Tech.

Ensign — George Dennis Reinwand of Ensign and Robert Allen Holter of Munising were accepted Thursday by U. S. naval recruiting officers at Green Bay. They have reported to Great Lakes for basic training.

20 YEARS AGO

Manistique—Horatio Alger, Jr., has passed away but if the master of these stories were alive today he would find good material for another novel in the story of George Coates. George, who is a porter in a Manistique tonorial parlor, has announced that he is to receive $5,000 at five year intervals for the next 15 years, from a lady who adopted him when he was a ragged pickaninny in Florida. The little porter seems very unconcerned about his new wealth, and plans to stay in Manistique.

New York—One hundred five pounds of French girl, named Lily Pons, is trying to realize that one of those miracles for which the United States is famous has happened to her. Saturday afternoon the 26-year-old Lily was just another coloratura soprano from Europe, making her debut at the Metropolitan Opera House. She sang "Lucia." Saturday night Lily Pons was in the headlines as the most sensational debutante since the opera has heard since Marion Talley.

Some day the phone companies are going to get smart and limit the calls of teenagers to five hours.

U. S. Military Policy Periled

Political Dangers Seen By Childs

By MARQUIS CHILDS
WASHINGTON — Whether he meant it as a portent for the new year, there was in Senator Robert A. Taft's last speech in the old year an ominous shadow of discussion to come. In that speech delivered to his home town of Cincinnati Taft announced that he had no confidence in the top military leadership of this country.

That was a strange thing to say at a moment when American troops were being pressed to the point of deadly peril in Korea. The senator from Ohio later amended his remarks to say that he did not mean to include in his vote of no confidence the command in the field which presumably exempted MacArthur.

This, it seems to me, is indicative of a most dangerous trend. Foreign policy has become increasingly the subject of bitter political partisanship. If now military policy is likewise thrown into the arena of political passion, the security of this nation will be jeopardized from within.

Dangerous Doctrine
Several champions of General MacArthur have publicly declared in congress that any effort to relieve him of his command or even to alter the nature of that command would bring political reprisals, that is, in effect, that political backing will champion MacArthur regardless of how any decision may be reached as to his military status. Quite apart from anything the general may or may not have done at any point in his long and distinguished career, this is a dangerous doctrine that goes contrary to most American practice.

There is no intention here to suggest that a general or an admiral is above criticism. But criticism is one thing and it is quite another thing for the head of the political opposition to declare to the country that he has no confidence in the country's military leadership.

Part of Taft's complaint seemed to be that the military command in the Pentagon had told congress either too much or not enough. They had said that Korea was a disaster and now, look, said Taft, we seem to be holding a line on the 38th parallel. This, it should be added, was just before the latest Chinese Communist attack was launched.

Different in Britain
One thing this does do and that is to bring into focus the burden put on our military men in the matter of the relationship with congress. In most Democratic countries—Great Britain is a good example—liaison with the legislature is the duty exclusively of the civilian heads of the defense departments. They report for the generals and admirals.

Our generals and admirals, in addition to all their other duties, must testify in person on major defense matters. It is a time-consuming process since they must go before both senate and house groups to tell the same story twice.

As part of this responsibility the top commanders try to keep congressional committees informed on the latest military developments. Naturally this cannot be advertised to the world.

So what happens? The general or the admiral appears before a committee in executive session. A personal check is made of every individual present to make sure that by some chance an unauthorized person has not slipped into the committee room. The doors, the windows and the walls have been previously checked for possible listening devices.

Secret Testimony
The general of the admiral talks frankly. He is pressed to give his appraisal of the situation. The committee thanks him for his frankness. All this is very secret. Reporters waiting outside the door are told, "no comment."

But within a matter of hours the general or the admiral finds that everything he said has been "leaked" to press and radio. It has actually happened that testimony given in the morning has by the process of congressional "leak" appeared in the afternoon news-

COLD CUTS — Despite freezing temperature and a steady snow-fall, a guy has to keep himself neat and sharp-looking, so Pfc. ### Grand Marais

Holiday Banquet
GRAND MARAIS—The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6030 and its Auxiliary entertained at a holiday banquet at the cottage. A turkey dinner was served 75 members and guests. Preparations were in charge of Lawrence Phoenix and post members, pastry and vegetables were provided by the Auxiliary and fresh rolls by Mrs. Alex Niemi, Jr., and Mrs. Andrew Soldenski. Mrs. Soldenski was in charge of decorations and seating arrangements.

Personals
Norman and Erna Soldenski have returned to Detroit after a holiday visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Soldenski. Joan Verecillo returned to Detroit following a holiday stay with her step-father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Yimaki.

John Masse, Jr., of Pentwater is visiting his children at the senior John Masse home. Mr. and Mrs. James Haggan and family of Stuttgart, Ark., are guests at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chilson and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Teller. Mrs. Haggan is the former Mona MacDonald, niece of Mrs. Chilson and Mrs. Teller.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thorington and son of Munising were Sunday guests at the senior James Thorington home. Bruce Erikson and Steven Block returned to their studies at St. Norbert's college, DePere, Wis., Tuesday following holiday vacations at the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Erikson and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Block.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Block and Francis and Sharon of Marquette were recent guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Block.

Mr. and Mrs. William Small of papers. Here, as Senator Taft might have pointed out, is a matter where confidence and mutual trust enter in. The general or the admiral will not be nearly so ready to talk frankly the next time. It is just too dangerous to disclose in this way secrets of possible benefit to an enemy whether immediate or potential, and that includes plans for future campaigns.

Gen. A. Eisenhower is shortly going to Europe to head a unified defense command for the North Atlantic treaty nations. He is going in answer to the call of duty. To encourage politics to infringe on that assignment would be the deepest disservice to the country and the western world, to say nothing of what an injustice it would be to Eisenhower himself. With the gulf marked out by Herbert Hoover's speech the temptation will be there. But it should be put down no matter what its source.

East Coast Steel Output Built Up To Use Import Ore

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK —(AP)—The East coast is getting another huge steel plant. This will give it three, and possibly four or more, by the end of 1952.

The plants will use new iron ore bodies being developed in Labrador, Venezuela and Liberia—to supplement our own rich deposits in Minnesota which can't last forever.

They will pull the United States—whose steel production is already three and a half times that of Russia—still farther ahead in the armament race.

Huge Plants Planned
And the new plants will insure the eastern manufacturer of a better break, competitively, in getting steel.

National Steel Corp. announces today the purchase of a 2,000-acre site on the Delaware river, 10 miles south of Camden, N. J. The size of the plant hasn't been announced, but some guess its capacity will be as high as one million tons of steel ingots a year.

U. S. Steel will build a $400 million integrated plant on the Delaware river, across from Trenton, N. J., to turn out 1,800,000 tons a year.

The New England Steel Development Corp. is asking federal tax concessions to allow it to build a $250 million plant at New London, Conn., with perhaps one million ton capacity. However, Governor Dever of Massachusetts is still trying hard to get the New England plant built near Fall River, Mass.

Already operating is the Bethlehem steel plant near Baltimore. The first iron ore from its new Venezuelan mines will be arriving soon.

Shipments From Liberia
Another possibility—although nothing to indicate a new mill might be built has been announced yet—lies in the fact that the Republic Steel Corp. by next spring will be receiving its first iron ore shipments from Liberia, where it is interested in a very rich deposit. This African ore might stimulate yet another East coast steel mill.

Why the sudden rush to build steel mills on the Atlantic coast? First reason is that the big steel companies have discovered rich iron deposits since the war which can be delivered by water cheaply to an East coast mill.

U. S. Steel's new Venezuelan mine can yield from one-half billion to one billion tons of high grade ore. It can be shipped cheaply to the new Delaware river mill.

National Steel is heavily interested in the iron ore deposits in Labrador, and will ship ore by water to its Delaware river site and bring in its coal from West Virginia. The Labrador deposits are estimated as high as 400 million tons.

Schaffer
Sgt. Ed Seymour returned Sunday to Roswell, N. M., where he is stationed with the United States Air Force, following a week at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haaselt and son of Milwaukee spent New Year's at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Witte.

Mrs. Joseph LaVigne and Mrs. Don Mayer returned from Milwaukee where they attended the funeral of a relative.

Royal Taylor returned to Milwaukee following a New Year's visit at his parental home. Mrs. Edmond Hurtubise and son Ivy Lee accompanied him back.

lion tons of rich ore. The Iron Ore Co. of Canada recently placed $200 million in bonds and stocks to finance the opening up of the Labrador ore.

Demand Still Mounts
A second reason for the shift to the East coast is a competitive one. For years Bethlehem, with its exclusive Baltimore mill, could sell the most profitably in the East. This advantage was offset, however, by the basing point system which permitted distant steel mills of other companies to absorb part of the freight costs and sell in Eastern markets at Bethlehem's price level.

The basing point system fell under federal disfavor, and was abandoned. With their new mills on the Delaware, U. S. Steel and National will be able to compete price-wise again with Bethlehem.

A third reason for the new mills is the current heavy civilian demand for steel and the mounting demand for steel for rearmament.

Brain Big As House Calculates Orbits Of Great Planets

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
HAVERFORD, Pa.—(AP)—History's most spectacular astronomy calculation, done by an electronic brain the size of a small house, was reported to the American Astronomical society recently.

The machine discovered and corrected errors in movements of the great planets, and showed their precise motions, something astronomers have been trying to do for more than a thousand years.

The machine calculated the exact orbits of Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto. In four weeks it showed exactly where they have been moving in their orbits around the sun ever since 1653 and where they will be until the year 2060. Some of these planets are or will be as much as ten thousand miles from the places where the best astronomy had placed them.

Aid For Navigation
The new results are of practical use in navigation, predicting weather and tides, and in a bet-furlough here.

Lakes Steamship O. M. Reiss the past season arrived home Sunday. Floyd Tucker and brother will spend the remainder of the winter here with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Harju, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tucker and Mr. and Mrs. George McGarey. Mr. Peterson will be with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peterson.

Mrs. Edward Cohler who has been a patient in St. Luke's hospital, Marquette returned Monday to the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. William Blankinship.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Smathers of Newberry former residents of McMillan spent New Year's Eve with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Harju of Newberry were the guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Harju Jr., Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Max B. Purdy and daughter, Abby Gail of Newberry visited New Year's day with the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Skinner and with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Terry.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hartwick and daughter Esther left Sunday for their home in Crossvel following a week's winter vacation at their summer home in McMillan. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. William V. Hartwick, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Skinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Brown have purchased the Duane Peann residence and moved into their new home this week. Mr. and Mrs. Braun and family are now making their home in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Dawn Lawson has returned to her home in Kalamazoo after visiting over the holidays with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Francis Pelletier.

ter understanding of the laws of motions which are the basis of the machine age.

The electronic brain did in four weeks the calculations which a mathematician would have done in a thousand years by hand, and in eighty years by using ordinary desk calculating machines.

The work was reported by Dr. W. J. Eckert, director of Pure Science, International Business Machine Corporation. Dr. Dirk Brouwer, director of Yale observatory and Gerald Clemence, director of the nautical almanac office of the U. S. Naval observatory. The work was financed by the office of Naval research. The almanac will print 300 pages of the new planetary tables, for use of navigators, weathermen and other scientists.

The 300 pages are part of 30,000 pages of figures which the machine turned out. In making the computations it kept in its mechanical memory nearly 1,000,000 digits, and did 12,000,000 computations. The thousands of results were each carried out to 15 decimal places.

No Missing Planet
The machine occupies much of the ground floor of the International Business Machine world headquarters building in New York.

It made one error, 20 digits wrong in a computation about the planet Pluto. But this error will not affect more than the last six decimal places in the next hundred years. The tables are printed with only nine places, which is more than scientists ever use. And which will still be correct for a hundred years.

In the computations Mars, Earth, Venus and Mercury were omitted, because the others contain 99.44 per cent of the mass of all the planets. This great mass, and the way its gravitational pull act, account for virtually all the motions of the planets. The electronic brain's figures even show how the gravitational pull of the five planets at times slightly slows the Earth's rotation.

The new tables show no evidence of a missing planet, something astronomers have been seeking for a century. This hunt was prompted by unexplained motions of planets, which the calculator

Annual Parish
Dinner Last Night
At St. Stephen's

St. Stephen's Episcopal parish held its annual dinner and business meeting last evening in the Guild hall of the church. The dinner was served by women's organizations of the parish.

Attorney Charles L. Lewis presided at the business session at which the budget for 1951 was adopted, the annual drive for pledges launched, reports of various church organizations presented by the treasurers and the vestry of the church elected.

Leonard Reynolds was named to the vestry to fill the vacancy created by the death of R. Baxter Mitchell. Sylvester M. Vaughan succeeds William Kammeier, who declined the nomination. Re-elected were Mr. Lewis, Frank W. Loos, Everett R. Cole, Raymond G. Mulchahey, Fred R. Hoyer, E. P. Sawyer, Arthur Preston, Thomas McMeekan, E. H. Niederauer and Arthur E. Nelson.

Vestry Election
Immediately following the annual meeting the vestry held its election. Mr. Loos was re-elected treasurer, Mr. Lewis, re-elected senior warden, Mr. Mulchahey was elected junior warden and Mr. Niederauer was re-elected clerk.

Rev. and Mrs. James G. Ward were presented with luggage, gifts of appreciation from the parish. The retiring pastor, in his acceptance, gave a resume of his fourteen years at St. Stephen's. Mrs. Ward also was presented with a hand bag, the gift of St. Mary's Guild.

In his talk Rev. Ward reported that during his rectorship 27 families had come and gone and 94 new families had been added to the congregation as well as many individuals.

Treasurer's Report
Miss Delight Mashek reported for the Church school and St. Mary's Guild; Mrs. William E. Kammeier for the Women's Auxiliary; Mrs. E. J. Eden, St. Catherine's Guild; Mrs. C. R. Wickman, St. Stephen's Guild; and Arthur Preston, the Men's club. The parish treasurer's report was presented by Mr. Loos, showing all bills paid and a neat balance on hand.

Rev. and Mrs. Ward are leaving on a Mediterranean cruise February 3 from New York City aboard the Britannic of the Cunard Steamship Line.

Before using your pressure cooker, make certain the small vent tube leading to the indicator is clear and clean. Clogging in this tube may prevent your knowing when there is pressure in the pan.

St. Cecilia Choir
Farewell Banquet
For Father Cappel

Members of St. Cecilia choir entertained at a banquet in the Marine Room of the House of Ludington last evening for Rev. Louis Cappel, organizer and director of the singing organization who is leaving Escanaba.

Dinner, attractively appointed, was served at 6:30 and was followed by an informal program of songs by the choir group. As a pleasant surprise for the pastor, a guest at the affair was his mother, Mrs. Caesar Cappel, who came from Battle for the occasion.

Father Cappel who has been transferred from St. Ann's parish here to St. Mary's church in Wakefield, was presented with a farewell gift.

President Hopes U. S. Won't Have To Declare War

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman said that United States forces will not bomb China without United Nations sanction.

He made this clear at a news conference in which he again expressed hope that a third world war can be avoided this year.

He said, in response to questions as to what point would have to be reached before he would have to consult Congress on a declaration of war, that if the proper time arrived, the proper action would be taken.

He hopes the time will never come when he would have to ask for a declaration of war, he said, adding that the time has not come yet.

He said the action in Korea is proceeding under the direction of the United Nations and this country is always willing to negotiate.

As to the Russian reply to a proposal for a big four foreign ministers conference, he said he would stand by Secretary of State Acheson's statement yesterday that further clarification is needed as to what the Russians are proposing.

Acheson said the Russian note appears to only restate the Soviet position that the ministers should meet to discuss German questions.

Mr. Truman emphasized that the United States is not formally at war, and he added we are carrying out our obligations to the United Nations.

Chapter Plans Card Marathon

Play To Be Held At Masonic Temple

Marathon card games will be sponsored every third Tuesday of the month by Minnecassa Chapter No. 96, Order of the Eastern Star, it was decided at a special meeting held this week.

At the meeting Mrs. Kenneth Pickard was elected conductress and Mrs. Marvin Larson associate conductress of the chapter. The former succeeds Mrs. Ted Sura, the former Marjorie Ward, who has moved to lower Michigan.

In the card marathon, bridge, five hundred, canasta and smear are to be played. The fee will be a half dollar. All persons interested in playing, whether or not members of the chapter, may do so. All should enroll with Mrs. Bert Nisonen, worthy matron, phone 9-2931.

This marathon play will be held from January to June. Awards to the highest winners will be given in June.

Refreshments will be served by the Chapter at the close of each session.

The committee for the Tuesday evening meeting was composed of Mrs. Elmer Peterson, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Walter Houghton and Mrs. Sylvester Martin.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation of the wonderful acts of kindness shown us by neighbors and friends during the illness and at the time of the death of our beloved mother and grandmother, Mrs. Evaline Tennant. Especially do we wish to thank those who sent flowers, those who donated the use of their cars, those who served as pallbearers and all others who aided us in so many ways. The memory of these acts of kindness will always remain with us.

Air Enlistment Will End Soon

Deadline Matter
Of Days Is Report

The United States Air Force will be closed to enlistments within the next few days, according to word received today from the Michigan military district headquarters by Sgt. Charles McQuay, local recruiting officer. Sgt. McQuay also was instructed to contact all men of draft age who are planning to volunteer for the air force so that they may join before the deadline.

Because of previous heavy enlistments the air force currently has all of the manpower it needs, Sgt. McQuay reported.

Under another shift in Michigan military policy, no men hereafter will be accepted for enlistment who have received their orders for induction physical examinations, Sgt. McQuay said. Previously men were being accepted as volunteers up to the time of their final induction.

Social

Lady Foresters

The Lady Foresters will meet Tuesday evening, January 9, in the parochial school hall, starting at 7:30 o'clock. A social hour will follow the business meeting, and refreshments will be served later.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Frank Paquette, Mrs. George Patrick, Mrs. Ernest Hohlak, Mrs. Joseph Hohlak, Mrs. Stella Putvin, Mrs. Nick Parente, Mrs. Peter Rozich, Mrs. Richard Rodman, Mrs. Arthur Rousseau, and Mrs. Violet Riley.

Ladies' Aid

The Ladies' Aid of the First Baptist church met in the church parlors Wednesday afternoon.

Plans concerning the father-son banquet to be held Wednesday, January 10, were discussed during the business meeting. Mrs. Lawrence Strasser had charge of the devotionals and program.

Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Vilas Young, Mrs. Don Hastings, and Mrs. William Hamill. Mrs. Norman Brown also assisted.

Woman's Social Club

The Women's Social club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Joseph Carefello, 193 N. Cedar street. Mrs. William Raridon and Mrs. Iva Fissette were acting hostesses.

Following the business meeting, cards were played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. William Pellville in 500, and Mrs. William Courmay in canasta. Mrs. Louis Deaudry was given the guest prize.

At the close of the evening, refreshments were served.

Luther League

The Luther League of the Zion Lutheran church met Wednesday evening in the church parlors.

During the business meeting, led by the president, Miss Marion Knopp, it was decided that the group would have a toboggan party on January 14. The group will also have charge of the fellowship service on February 4.

Following the business meeting there was a social hour and refreshments were served by the hostesses, Marlene Smith and Elizabeth Nylander.

Guests at the meeting were Kathryn Greene and Jo Anne Krutson.

The next meeting will be held January 24. Victoria Nelson and Helen Miller will act as hostesses.

First Congresswoman From Michigan Takes Oath In Washington

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. Ruth Thompson (R) was sworn in Wednesday as the first congresswoman from Michigan.

What did she think of the first day's session?

"Very spirited and most interesting," she said.

Miss Thompson has had experience in the Michigan legislature. She also served 12 years as probate judge in Muskegon county.

Three other new House members from Michigan were sworn in. They are Reps. George Meader (R) of the Second district, John Lesinski Jr., (D) of the 16th and Thaddeus Machrowicz (D) of the First. Miss Thompson represents the Ninth.

The full Michigan delegation has the same lineup politically in the new Congress as in the 81st. It is 12-to-five Republican.

Garden

Elmer Kruger of Garden Bluff was dinner guest of the Gibson Collinsons of Kate's Bay Monday.

Bandit At Church

BALTIMORE—(AP)—Fifty-five-year-old John G. Igo paused at the famous Catholic cathedral here for a few moments of prayer. As he left the church, a young man met him in the vestibule, pointed a gun at him and robbed him of eight dollars. Police are searching for the church bandit.

Methods Of Getting War Contract Work Discussed By Speaker

Creation of job opportunities in a community requires team work and cannot be accomplished by one or two individuals, it was stated by Albert J. Gavzoda, of Hancock, in a talk Wednesday evening at a special meeting of the industrial division of the Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce.

Gavzoda, who is field supervisor for the Michigan Employment Service, came to Manistique at the invitation of the local chamber. Also attending the session, held at Denny's restaurant, were Whitney Dixon and James Damitz, manager and assistant manager, respectively, of the Escanaba office of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission.

Two Big Assets
The speaker, who has had wide experience in the field of employment and community job problems said that Manistique had two prime assets in seeking current war contracts. One of these was the availability of several factory buildings, one of which, he declared was about the finest he had seen in the Upper Peninsula. The other was a surplus of skills required on war contract work.

The speaker also said that in his preliminary survey of Manistique in the afternoon it appeared that adequate transportation facilities also were available here.

The next step, he said, was for the community,

Briefly Told

Bake Sale—A bake sale will be held Saturday, January 13, at the Manistique Co-op store, it is announced. The sale, continuing from 1 to 5 p. m., will be sponsored by the Lady of Fatima Circle of St. Anne's Altar Society.

School Board—A regular meeting of the Manistique board of education is scheduled for next Tuesday evening, January 9, in the office of Supt. A. F. Hall.

Bowling Schedule—The bowling schedule for the Ladies' City League next Monday, January 8, is as follows: 7 p. m., Curran Motors vs. Brault's, on alleys 1 and 2; Starness vs. C-L Hard, on alleys 3 and 4; 9 p. m., Light and Power vs. Laumerman on alleys 1 and 2; Mulhaupt's vs. Franklin Forest Products on alleys 3 and 4.

Dartball Games—Games in the City Dartball League Monday night, January 8, are as follows: Firemen vs. Bethel at Bethel Baptist church; Methodist vs. First Baptist at First Baptist church; Lutheran No. 1 vs. Lutheran No. 2 at Zion Lutheran church; Presbyterian vs. Episcopal at Presbyterian church.

Accordion Band—The accordion band will practice Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. G. Leslie Bouschor, 701 Michigan avenue.

Toboggan Party—The junior young people of the Bethel Baptist church will have a toboggan party Saturday afternoon at 2:30. The group is to meet at the church first for a short junior choir practice. Following the tobogganing, refreshments will be served. All junior members and their friends are invited to attend.

Eastern Star—There will be a regular meeting of the Eastern Star Saturday evening at 8:15 in the Masonic temple.

American Legion Auxiliary—There will be a meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the Legion clubrooms. All members are requested to be present.

Blessed Martin Circle—There will be a meeting of the Blessed Martin circle of the St. Anne's Altar Society Monday evening at the home of Mrs. George Mero, 612 Oak street. The hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Arthur Hough and Miss Mary Neumeier.

through united effort, to obtain either primary or subcontracts. He stated that competition in this field was keen, that many communities maintained paid representatives in Washington to obtain this work. He recommended that in seeking primary contracts the community retain the services of Washington firms and individuals who perform this type of work for communities on a percentage basis.

Complete Information
In seeking either prime or subcontracts, the speaker said, the community will have to furnish complete information on its facilities, including plant space, equipment available, skilled labor obtainable, transportation and other factors which may affect production.

Gavzoda said that a survey made in Ishpeming and the Copper Country revealed another important factor in the cause for population decreases and the tendency of young men to leave their home towns.

The survey was made, he said, because Ishpeming revealed no population decrease while the Copper Country showed a sharp drop. Another factor revealed, he said, was that young men in Ishpeming indicated a willingness to seek employment in the iron mines while Copper Country youth were reluctant to enter the copper mines. A school survey in the Copper Country area also revealed that out of 12 graduating classes questioned two years ago, 55 per cent indicated a desire to leave the area while only 15 per cent, mainly farm youths, reported they planned to remain at home.

Jobs For Girls
The survey indicated, he said, that one primary reason was responsible for the difference in youth attitudes in the two areas. Ishpeming, through various factories, provides substantial employment for young women and that, he said, tended to keep the male youth in their home town. It further provided an opportunity for dual income for young married couples during the first few years of their marriage.

His advice was that communities seeking to hold its youth population should seek to provide employment for girls and young women.

Whitney Dixon also spoke briefly, stating that his office would furnish lists of available government contracts and contracts awarded to all industries seeking them.

William H. Frederick, secretary of the local chamber, and Mayor James H. Fyvie also spoke briefly. Leonard J. Harbick, chamber president, presided at the meeting and introduced the main speaker.

Gavzoda spent about two hours Wednesday surveying various assets of the town, and again yesterday morning he visited several shops and plants.

Straits Of Mackinac Traffic Declines

LANSING—(AP)—Traffic across the Straits of Mackinac showed a decrease of 1,361 vehicles in 1950 compared to 1949, the state highway department said. A total of 604,612 vehicles were transported between Mackinac City and St. Ignace last year compared to 605,973 in 1949, a record-breaking year for Straits traffic. The decrease, of two-tenths of one per cent, was blamed on unseasonably cold summer weather which curtailed tourist travel.

Joseph Krusic, 51, Wednesday was bound over to circuit court under $500 bond on a disorderly charge. He was unable to post bond and was placed in the county jail to await his appearance in circuit court next week.

Arrested by city police, Krusic was arraigned Wednesday morning in local justice court. It was his third disorderly offense.

Divers Will Seek Missing Tug Sachem On Lake Erie Bottom

BUFFALO, N. Y.—(AP)—Diving operations will be resumed as soon as weather permits in the search for the missing tug Sachem. The Dunbar & Sullivan Dredging Co., owners of the tug, said it had made arrangements with a salvage company to examine an object located at the bottom of Lake Erie beneath an oil slick. If the object proves to be the Sachem, as is believed, authorities hope to remove any bodies that may be found.

In Cleveland, Rear Admiral Roy L. Raney of the U. S. coast guard said he understood the salvage tug Seere, owned by Merritt, Chapman & Scott of Cleveland, would be used in the operation. Dunbar & Sullivan had declined to identify the assisting company.

Fire Destroys Barn Wednesday

Loss Also Includes
Supply Of Potatoes

A barn at the Arvid Scharstrom farm, Manistique township, was completely destroyed by fire shortly after 3 p. m. Wednesday. Included in the loss were 320 bushels of potatoes stored in the barn basement.

The fire is believed to have started from an oil burning stove located in the barn.

The county fire truck, maintained and operated by the Manistique fire department, was called at 3:25 p. m. but arrived too late to save the building. The truck, driven by Kenneth Jones, returned at 4:25. State police also were called.

The Scharstrom farm is rented by Kermit Wolfe, and it was his potatoes that were burned. Local firemen reported that no other farm material was stored in the building.

Keel Laid For Third 647-Foot Ore Carrier

DETROIT—(AP)—The keel of the third of a series of 647-foot ore carriers was laid Wednesday in the yards of Great Lakes Engineering Works in suburban Ecorse.

The ship is being rushed into production for the Pittsburgh Steamship Co., a subsidiary of United States Steel Corp. It will have a 70-foot beam and 36-foot depth and will be powered by a 7,000-horsepower turbine engine.

Already under construction are similar vessels for Pickands, Mather & Co. and Ogilby, Norton & Co., both of Cleveland.

Inland Steel Co., announced yesterday the Philip D. Block, built in 1925, will be opened amidsthips in the South Chicago yards of American Shipbuilding Co. for an addition of a 72-foot new midsection. Reassembled, the Philip D. Block will be 672 feet long, only six feet shy of the length of the Wilfred Sykes, largest vessel on the Great Lakes.

Janowicz Fails In Class; Reported Dropped by OSU

COLUMBUS, O.—(AP)—Versatile Vic Janowicz—Ohio State university's All-American halfback Heisman trophy winner—may not be allowed to re-enter school for the winter term because of failing grades, it was reported today.

University officials declined to confirm a report by the Ohio State Journal that the 20-year-old Elyria, O., junior had been dismissed from school. The winter term began Wednesday.

Janowicz, a junior with another year of football eligibility, said he did not know whether he was "in or out" of school. He told a newsman that two overdue parking tickets had prevented him from receiving his grades but added that he expected to talk to university officials today.

Outstanding Player
The Journal said last night it learned Janowicz had been dismissed because he failed to meet certain scholastic standards. Such failure means dismissal for at least one scholastic quarter.

A student thus dismissed may be reinstated under certain conditions. Bland L. Stedley, Ohio State vice president, declined to confirm the dismissal report. He said Janowicz's grades were "the private property of him and his parents."

But he confirmed that Janowicz had not enrolled in the winter term. Janowicz was contacted in Cleveland. Last night he received the Cleveland Touchdown club's award as "outstanding college football player in the nation."

He said he found out from an instructor last month that he failed a course in political science and added he may have failed another course in botany. These two failures, he said, would subject him to expulsion.

"What Pay $12?"
A newsman asked Janowicz why he did not pay the parking fines, pick up his grades and enroll for the winter quarter while in Columbus Wednesday. He replied: "What do you mean? Pay $12?"

Conceivably, Janowicz could be reinstated in the spring quarter which begins in late March. Then if he enrolled in summer school and made up failing grades, he would again be eligible to play football.

Portage Lakers Beat Marquette

MARQUETTE — (AP) — The Marquette Sentinels played what probably was their best game of the season in going down to a 12-6 defeat at the hands of a strong Portage Lake team on Paletta ice last night.

The indomitable Bukovich brothers took the limelight in leading the Portage Lakers to their seventh consecutive Northern Wisconsin-Michigan hockey league victory. For Marquette, it was the sixth defeat in a row. Calumet, which has still to win one, will be host to the Sentinels.

For the better part of two periods, the Sentinels made a game of it, at times even outplaying the visitors. But the Portage's experience and manpower told heavily in the final period.

Tony Bukovich, Portage Lake's playing manager, sent home five scores to add to his individual lead in the NMW league. Brother Mike got three goals, but Joe had to be content with three assists.

A crowd of 1,123 paid customers—largest of the season—saw the game.

Joe Louis Plots Boxing Future

NEW YORK — (AP) — Former Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis was here today for talks about his fighting future.

Louis had a date to consult over his comeback program with Al Weill, matchmaker for the International Boxing club.

Beforehand, there was considerable talk and speculation over the possibility of an early meeting between Louis and Champion Ezzard Charles.

Evidently, there wasn't much to go on, however.

A Milwaukee sports writer quoted Louis' trainer, Mennie Seamon, as saying Joe would be willing to meet Charles in March.

The writer, Ray Grody of the Milwaukee Sentinel, said that Louis subsequently gave support to this.

But in Washington last night Louis simply replied "No" when asked the same question again. Joe was in Washington to referee a fight.

All that seems set to any degree are proposed bouts in St. Louis, Miami and New York with opponents yet to be decided upon.

At least three-fourths of mental abnormalities now are accepted as organic in origin, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

It has been a long time since anything has tickled Escanaba's sport fancy so much as so-called "fast hockey" has.

The sport has taken Escanaba—and surrounding areas... by storm. The team that the Hawks have assembled is a hard-skating, fighting crew and they give the fans plenty for their money.

Almost universally the reaction is the same with newcomers seeing hockey for the first time—and they are many in Escanaba.

For instance, Wednesday night at the intermission after the first period of the Hawk-Eagle River game, one husky Gladstone resident said:

"This is my first chance to see a good hockey game and, boy, do I like it. I'll be there with bells on when the Hawks play again."

It isn't hard to see why hockey has caught on here. It is fast, rough, has plenty of action, there's an occasional fight and now and then blood flows.

Unlike football, it doesn't have dull moments during huddles—because there are no huddles to call signals.

Unlike basketball, it isn't a parade to the free throw line because of overzealous officials thinking the fans pay to see them. Hockey officials let well enough alone. None of this "no-contact" stuff with them. Quite the contrary!

And, finally, the game is easy to understand. The object is to get the puck—that little hard rubber object—into the net more often than your opponents. In doing so, if you can commit a little mayhem, draw a little blood, crack a few bones or send three or four guys flying at once, the better the game.

The game itself is its best advertising medium. People who see their first game go away talking to themselves—and come back the next game with more prospective fans in tow.

If Escanaba can hold its team together—it is an expensive deal bringing players in from all over the midwest—the sport can be a big success in Escanaba.

Boxing Has Heart For Dead Fighter

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Boxing, long known as the swaggering tough guy of sports, has proved it has a heart.

Last night it raised $17,880.45 for the family of Sonny Boy West, the popular little Washington fighter who died two weeks ago after a New York bout.

The boy who knocked West out that night, Percy Bassett of Philadelphia, headed the card. He punched out a 10-round victory over Ted (Red Top) Davis of Hartford, Conn. Bassett weighed 130½, Davis 130.

But judging from the applause of the capacity crowd—the paid attendance was 7,501 and many more were turned away—the fans came to see Joe Louis, the former heavyweight king, and Sugar Ray Robinson, welterweight champion.

Both paid their way here, and each referred a preliminary bout. Louis was a contrast to the bubbling Robinson. He moped around while Lee Savold, heavyweight, went through a three-round exhibition with Charles Patrick Henry of Ireland.

When the bout was finished, Joe held up his own right arm. Force of habit, no doubt.

The bouts tested head gears for the first time in a professional ring. These contraptions are supposed to cushion a fall so that a fighter won't be too seriously hurt if he lands on the back of his head, as Sonny Boy West did.

"I didn't get a nickel out of this," said Promoter Goldie Ahearn. "But I'd do it again tomorrow. I've always said boxing had a heart of gold."

YPSILANTI — (AP)—Michigan Normal boasts two wins in as many starts against Hillsdale this season after a 71-47 defeat of the Dales last night. Sub Harry Foss led the way with 20 points.

Things Look Dark For Rapid River

RAPID RIVER—Things look dark for Rapid River Monday night.

A "black-out" basketball game between Rapid River merchants and faculty members will be held at the high school gym Monday night at 8 o'clock. All lights are turned out and only the floor, baskets, ball and uniforms will be outlined with luminous paint.

In the second half, the Bloomer Girls will play the Gay Nineties quintet.

Merchants include Harold Peck, Ray Callahan, Tom Faye, Murray Cole, Ned Short, Louis Sorgenfrei, Oliver Lund, Bertl Proehl, Morley Rushford, Harold Switzer, Jack Miller, Bert Wickham, Joe Casimir and Leslie Caswell.

Faculty members are Walte, Peters, Gerald Banaszak, Robert Olson, Robert Capra, Howard Kuehn and Norman Slough.

MODEL DIVER—Working out in the St. George pool in Brooklyn is Carmen Dell, 19, winner of 18 diving awards. The eye-fil is the top model she appears to be.

Bauer Is Holdout; Won't Take $10,000

NEW YORK — (AP) — Hank Bauer, outfielder for the world champions New York Yankees, is a holdout.

Recovered from an operation on his right ankle, Bauer visited the Yankee offices, but declined to sign a contract reportedly calling for $10,000 as compared with the $7,500 he got last season.

Iron Mountain Host To Olympic Tryouts

IRON MOUNTAIN—Giant Pine mountain scaffold, famed as the world's highest artificial ski slide, is being groomed for the greatest and most important spectacle in its 12-year history.

On Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 24-25, the 60 top-ranking skiers in the United States will compete for berths on the United States teams in the '52 winter games at Oslo, Norway.

In the last 11 years, Pine mountain has been the scene of some of the greatest distance-jumping shows on this side of the Atlantic.

Weather permitting, this year's event is expected to surpass all previous tournaments in performance, thrills and showmanship.

The field will be limited to only the cream of America's ski-jump-

RED LIGHT—Jim Holstein had no choice but to obey the stop signal of William and Mary's Jim Forrest, center, and Jim Butler. The Cincinnati player was going to shoot, but passed. The home Bearcats scalped the Indians, 89-60, setting a Cincinnati Garden scoring record.

Rock Defeats Rapid River For First Win

ROCK—The date, Jan. 5, 1951, will go down on the Rock calendar.

It marked the first victory for the Little Giants in their new gym—and their first victory of the current basketball season.

What made it triply sweet was that the victory—by a 42-28 score—came at the expense of Rock's old friendly rival, Rapid River, which had won the first meeting of the two teams earlier this season.

Coach Vic Mankewicz's boys were "hot" while Coach Norm Slough's boys were "cold." Bill Westlund, Rock forward, split the nets for eight field goals and four free throws for 20 points. Contributing heavily to the Rock cause was Don Syrjanen, who netted 11 points.

Rapid River's main scoring threat was Dale Gibson, who got 13 points. Bill Goodman added nine points.

In the preliminary, Rapid River reserves got revenge with a 48 to 35 win over the Rock seconds.

Michigan Puck Team Plays At Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS — (AP)—Michigan's goal-happy hockey team opens a two-game series with Minnesota tonight. A second game is slated tomorrow night.

The rugged Wolverines, paced by Neil Celley, Johnny Mc Kenell and Gil Burford, have collected 65 goals in their seven victorious starts this season.

Sole exception to the string of lop-sided conquests to date was a close 3-2 win over rugged Boston university.

A Jan. 10 exhibition between Michigan and the Detroit Red Wings, current leaders in the National hockey league, has been postponed to Feb. 14.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT
Washington—Percy Bassett, 130½, Philadelphia, outpointed Ted "Red Top" Davis, 130, Hartford, Conn., 10.

De-emphasis? Hardly Looks Like It

RIVERSIDE, Calif.—(AP)—The Pacific coast conference, which is considering quitting the Rose bowl because it is worried about over-emphasis of football, today voted to increase the size of its traveling football teams.

Instead of limiting squads to 37 players, the conference voted to permit 40 to make trips.

This action came as the conference decided to meet in San Francisco, perhaps within a couple weeks, to determine whether it would quit the Rose bowl participation.

Today the conference tackled several other major problems, chiefly television as it pertains to PCC football games.

The delegates admittedly are deeply concerned over television and slumping attendance receipts, particularly in the lush section of the coast, Los Angeles.

Receipts Drop

Conference commissioner Victor O. Schmidt disclosed that of the 30 games televised in the San Francisco Bay area, Seattle and Los Angeles, 21 fell below the estimates of receipts guaranteed by the television agreement, and 13 of the 21 found the deficit exceeding the guaranteed percentage and resulting in "uncompensated losses."

The sponsor agreed to underwrite the receipts, and placed a floor which would limit its own losses at 20 per cent of the anticipated receipts.

A spokesman for the company said the losses for his concern "exceeded $300,000."

What the schools lost in addition is not known, but hardest hit were Southern California and University of California at Los Angeles in the heavily TV populated Los Angeles area.

Yankees Voted 'Team Of Year'

NEW YORK — (AP)—The world champion New York Yankees baseball club was voted team of the year for 1950 in the annual year-end poll of sports writers and sportscasters by the Associated Press.

Oklahoma's football team, upset in the Sugar bowl after 31 straight victories, was a close second. City College's basketball "grand slam" champs were very much in the running.

With 215 voting, 70 picked the Yanks as the standout team in any sport, amateur or professional. Oklahoma drew 56 firsts and City College 43 ballots. It was strictly a three-team race with the Philadelphia Phillies a distant fourth.

The Minneapolis Lakers, National Basketball association pro champs, were fifth. The Cleveland Browns, National football league champs, were sixth.

The Detroit Red Wings, who beat off the New York Rangers in hockey's Stanley cup finals, were seventh. Princeton's powerful unbeaten football club was next, followed by the tricky Harlem Globe Trotters pro basketball team.

Tennessee, the Cotton bowl winner over Texas, was tenth. Last year's winner, Notre Dame, already has been voted the most disappointing team of 1950. It seems to be a jinx. The 1948 champs, Cleveland Indians, were the 1949 losers.

We Don't Make Love In Football, Says Bo

MOBILE, Ala.—(AP)—A football field is no place for carrying bouquets of flowers. Take it from silver-haired Alvin (Bo) McMillan, deposed coach of the Detroit Lions. McMillan's words came after he heard that Bobby Layne, Detroit quarterback, had criticized his coaching methods and handling of personnel.

To that criticism, McMillan said a player and his coach "don't go out on the football field to make love."

Layne definitely had not expressed any love for McMillan's coaching. At Dallas, Tex., he told reporters he had once informed the Detroit club's directors he wouldn't play under McMillan next season.

McMillan, who resigned and was replaced by Buddy Parker, had some kind words for Layne. Said he, "Layne would be my quarterback if I were coaching at Detroit next year."

"It is not surprising to hear of this criticism," said McMillan, who is coaching the North squad of college all-stars in the Senior bowl football game to be played here Saturday.

"Every year there are several boys who don't agree with my methods," said Bo. "And every other coach has the same trouble."

"We've got a job to do and we do it the way we think will accomplish the best results."

Layne said, "a lot of things led to my protest against McMillan. They just seemed to build up over the season."

The former University of Texas football star stressed he was irked only by what happened on the field and nothing outside of it. Layne, a veteran of three seasons in the National football league, was formerly with the Chicago Bears.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The justice department's anti-trust experts are taking another sharp look at the radio and television broadcasting rules maintained by pro baseball and pro football.

What action will be taken remains to be determined. However, the present outlook points to some form of negotiation to bring about changes in current practices before the next diamond and gridiron seasons.

Officially, the department says nothing. But it is known that some specialists within the department still believe the elaborate system of controls maintained by the clubs over radio and TV involve restraint of trade forbidden by the anti-trust statutes.

At the heart of the matter is the long and still-unsettled dispute over whether broadcasting and televising of sports events hurt or help attendance.

In New York next Thursday National league baseball owners are to discuss the radio and TV problem.

The justice department has had complaints that too much broadcasting of games has cut sharply into gate receipts. Some baseball officials contend that elaborate rebroadcasting and TV versions of major league games in minor league cities are killing off the game at its grass roots.

On the other hand, the department has had complaints that broadcasting is frequently hamstrung by club-owner strictures and high fees for broadcast rights.

Wait And See

The department two years ago investigated baseball broadcasting regulations, aimed principally at the major league rule requiring each major league club to ban its home-game broadcasts or telecasts from any station within 50 miles of the ball park of another club—major or minor—unless the latter consented to the broadcast.

Before any action was taken, the top men in baseball came in for conferences and worked out a revision of the rules. The justice department suspended its inquiry to see how things worked out.

Among other things, the revisions left each club free to decide whether to grant broadcast or telecast rights of its home games, without consultation with any other club, except when the latter is actually playing a game in its home park, or is telecasting one of its road games in its home territory. On such occasions, the consent of the second club is still required.

Pro football—which involves no minor league angle—also has a "home territory" setup covering a radius of 75 miles from the ball park, but its rules are, in the view of the department, not so well defined as those of baseball.

In general these regulations provide that both the home and visiting team may independently authorize any type of broadcast back to its own home territory, if it desires to do so. Telecasts are barred in cities where a hometown team is playing, unless that team gives its consent.

Adult Skating Saturday Night

There will be plenty of activity on the fairgrounds indoor ice rink over the weekend.

The weekly Saturday night adult skating party will be held from 7:30 to 10 o'clock with the rink reserved for adults. The lobby will be warmed, music will be provided and the concession will be open.

From 10 to 12 Saturday morning, two junior hockey teams will meet two Gladstone junior teams. Boys 11 and 12 will play in one game and those 13 and 14 will play the second.

There will be public skating in the rink Sunday afternoon from 1 to 4 and in the evening from 7 to 10.

TOO MUCH HEIGHT

MT PLEASANT — (AP) — A height disadvantage was too much for Central Michigan and it lost a 58-53 decision to Western Illinois last night. Towering W tern Illinois players controlled the backboards.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to all the kind neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved husband and father, George Denoo. We are very grateful to Rev. Fr. Stephen for his comforting words and other manifestations of sympathy, to those who served as honorary and active pallbearers, donated the use of their cars, sent floral and spiritual bouquets and to all others who aided us in so many ways. The memory of these acts of kindness will always remain with us.

Peace Pledged By British Bloc

Commonwealth Calls For Free World

LONDON.—(P)—The prime ministers of eight British commonwealth lands, whose combined territories cover one quarter of the earth, pledged themselves last night to strive for lasting peace and to preserve a free world.

Prime Minister Attlee keynoted the opening session of the 10-day British bloc conference with the declaration that "war certainly is not inevitable."

A British spokesman, who attended the first closed sessions, said the group laid down three main policy objectives:

1. Maintenance of United Nations authority in such world trouble spots as Korea.
2. Unity of the free world.
3. A constructive approach to world crises, following certain courses of action and avoiding others.

Informants said all the commonwealth members want to avoid any war—declared or undeclared—with powerful Red China. These sources said the bloc nations will probably come out against any proposal to bomb or blockade Red Chinese territory.

At the same time it was strongly indicated that several commonwealth nations oppose following Britain's lead in recognizing the Peiping government. An Australian informant, for instance, said his government is not in a position to ignore American opinion against such recognition.

Taft Says Truman Has No Right To Commit U. S. Troops To Europe

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) declared in the Senate today that President Truman has no power to commit American troops to a European defense force without approval first from Congress.

Taft asserted, too, that the president "without authority x x x involved us in the Korean war."

In his first foreign policy speech of the 82nd Congress, Taft said he is willing to commit "some limited number of American divisions" to North Atlantic defenses. But he said the Europeans must take the lead in forming such a force.

"I do not think we should force our assistance on nations which do not wish to arm themselves," the Ohio Senator declared. "I do not think we should insist or even urge that Europeans form a great international army unless they request us to help them with that project."

"I do not think we should assume the leadership in the formation of a great international army by the appointment of an American commander-in-chief."

President Truman has already named Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for that place and the Truman administration had laid plans to send additional American troops to Europe to serve in the combined defense force.

At a news conference only yesterday, President Truman said there was no question but that he had authority to send additional troops to Europe.

The two women saw the flames enveloping the house and dashed in. The mother reached Terry and took her outside, but the grandmother was driven back by flames when she tried to get to Pamela.

The defendant, Birger Nordkvist, 41, was indicted yesterday for the death of Evelyn Hughes, whose stage name was Yvonne Hughes.

Nordkvist, who was arrested at Utica, N. Y., shortly after the slaying, gave his address as Hamilton, in western New York.

The accused man, a Swedish-born former seaman, has been quoted by police as saying he strangled Miss Hughes in a hotel room here in a fit of passion when she resisted his advances during a drinking spree.

The body of Miss Hughes, who was about 50, was found in a hotel room rented by Nordkvist. She appeared in several Broadway shows, including "Rio Rita."

PORTSMOUTH, Va. — (P) — Two of the U. S. Navy's mightiest warships are coming out of mothballs to join the active fleet.

The battleship Wisconsin, 45,000-ton sister of the USS Missouri, arrived at the naval shipyard here yesterday for the demobbing process.

Shipyard officials declined to estimate how long it will be before the superdreadnaught, active in five campaigns against Japan in World War II, is recommissioned.

Meantime in Washington, the Navy announced plans to reactivate the 27,000-ton carrier Tarawa. A carrier of the Essex class, the Tarawa probably will be prepared for the return to active duty in a shipyard at New York, the Navy said.

She was riding in a car with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Schmutz, of Alta Loma, when it crashed head-on with another auto.

Miss Schmutz has been undergoing months of constant medical and therapeutic care. She now is able to leave her hospital bed and sit up in a wheel chair.

MIAMI, Fla. — (P)—Caro Bayley of Springfield, Ohio, drove her Piper Super Cub 30,380 feet above Miami yesterday for a new unofficial altitude record for light planes.

The official record of 24,504 feet was set by Ana Luisa Branger in Washington, D. C., last year. Miss Bayley exceeded that by more than a mile.

National aeronautics officials supervised the flight and a sealed barograph and other instruments from the plane will be sent to Washington for verification before the record can become official.

Miss Bayley's altitude attempt was a prelude to the Miami air show tomorrow and Sunday.

MISSOURI KILLER GOES TO EXECUTION CHAIR

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — (P) — In a final show of bravado, a convicted killer of two men flicked the dust off the execution chair with a handkerchief and then went to his death in the Missouri gas chamber early today.

He was 38-year-old Claude McGee who spent the last four years of his life in solitary confinement at the state penitentiary.

"I ain't scared to die—goodbye," McGee told the guards as the gas chamber door clanged shut.

McGee was executed for killing John Maner, a fellow convict, with a claw hammer in the prison yard in 1948. Maner had been McGee's accomplice in a slaying 14 years ago.

McGee gained a reputation as a bad prisoner because of his frequent escapes.

His car missed a turn and overturned.

Schmidt left the cemetery alive—with only a skinned knee. His passenger, John Haytoll, 20, got out alive too—but with a possibly broken back.

Police said they couldn't give Schmidt a ticket because the incident happened on private property.

Little Girl Burned To Death In Home Fire Near Pontiac

PONTIAC — (P)—Flames believed to have started in a coal stove destroyed a four-room frame house and killed a two-year-old girl in nearby Auburn Heights yesterday.

Pamela and her three-month-old sister, Terry, were alone in the house briefly when the fire started. Her father was at work at the Pontiac division of General Motors Corp. and her mother was in an adjoining house visiting her mother-in-law.

The two women saw the flames enveloping the house and dashed in. The mother reached Terry and took her outside, but the grandmother was driven back by flames when she tried to get to Pamela.

Retail Food Price Level Nears Top

binated at a season when they normally decline in price.

A controversy over prospective controls on food prices shaped up in the wake of Mr. Truman's news conference statement yesterday that he may ask congress to change the law which gives him price-wage control powers.

He said across-the-board wage and price controls would be put into effect as soon as they were needed and it was physically possible to do so. Then he went on to say the law would have to be changed for controls on farm products.

Asked if he intended to ask congress for a change, the president suggested that reporters wait for his state of the union message Monday—a broad hint he would make such a recommendation.

The controls law provides that farm products must not be lower than (a) the highest prices in the month before the Korean war or (b) parity prices—whichever are higher. (Parity is a legal farm price standard declared by law to be equally fair to the farmer and consumer.)

WASHINGTON.—(P)—The government was reported today to be drafting an order that all business firms give a 30-day notice before raising prices.

This would have the effect of a one-month price "freeze" although it would not apply to all farm prices, because of certain provisions of law.

Retail food prices were shown by the bureau of labor statistics today to have risen 1.2 per cent between Nov. 28 and Dec. 15—almost to the record high reached in July of 1948.

There was no immediate confirmation of the plan to issue a 30-day advance notice order. However, reports from people close to price director Michael V. Disalle and his staff said the decision has been made to issue such an order very soon.

The action, was described as a stopgap measure—holding the line temporarily while the price stabilization office builds a staff to enforce a system of more specific ceiling prices, and while the wage stabilization board comes to some decision on standards for controlling wages. This board has called a labor management conference for next week to talk problems involved in wage control.

Life and Blindness Or Death By Cancer Choice For Baby, 4

ATLANTA — (P)—The choice for four-year-old Carolyn Purcell, said the doctors, was life and blindness or death by cancer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Purcell, weary and tortured, replied, "God made her this way for a reason and if it is His will for her to die, there's nothing we can do about it."

So little Carolyn left Grady hospital for home yesterday, sleeping peacefully in her mother's arms.

The couple had been warned by physicians that at least one, possibly both, of the child's eyes would have to be removed to save her from a cancerous death.

"We just can't do it," said the distraught parents.

Purcell added, however, there was a chance they might change their minds; that they wanted an opportunity to rest and think some more.

"We have an appointment," he said, "back at the hospital next Thursday if we change our minds."

College Basketball Bookie Ring Broken At Broadway Cafe

NEW YORK — (P)—A policeman and five patrolmen teamed up last night at a Broadway cafe to crack an alleged $100,000-a-week college basketball bookie business.

A month ago police got permission from state supreme court justice Thomas A. Aurelio to put a wiretap on the telephone of the restaurant-bar, the spotlight cafe, near 42nd street.

Last night policeman Doris McDonald and patrolman Raymond Cushman entered the cafe for dinner. Downstairs was patrolman Paul Donnelly, taking notes on all calls.

While they leisurely ate dinner, the police pair said, two men made 50 or 60 trips to the telephone. Then Police Capt. Paul Weston entered the cafe and ordered a drink—the signal for the entire raiding squad to close in.

Arrested were the cafe's 400-pound manager, Samuel S. Brown, 50, of the Bronx; and Davis Scherzer, 37, and Lou Grossman, 44, both of Queens.

ORDINANCE NO. 213 AN ORDINANCE FIXING THE DETAILS WITH RESPECT TO THE GAS SYSTEM OF THE CITY OF ESCANABA, PROVIDING FOR THE SALE THEREOF, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS by ordinance adopted on September 21, 1950, the Council authorized the issuance of bonds of the City of Escanaba for the purpose of constructing improvements and extensions to the gas plant and system of said city, subject to the approval of said ordinance and the issuance of the bonds therein authorized by three-fifths (3/5) of the duly registered qualified electors of said city who had property assessed for taxes in said city, and WHEREAS at an election held on November 7, 1950, said ordinance and the issuance of the bonds therein authorized was approved by the requisite majority, and the Council now desires to fix the details with respect to the form and sale of said bonds;

NOW, THEREFORE, The City of Escanaba Ordains:

Section 1. That $125,000 bonds of the City of Escanaba ordered to be issued in the ordinance described in the preamble hereto shall be dated February 1, 1951, shall be in the denomination of $1,000 each, shall be numbered 1 to 125, inclusive, shall be payable at 5 per cent principal and interest in lawful money of the United States of America at the City of Escanaba, Michigan, and shall bear interest payable February 1, 1952, and semi-annually thereafter on February 1 and August 1 of each year at such rate or rates as may be fixed by resolution of the Council to be adopted at the time of the maturity of the bonds.

Section 2. That the bonds shall be signed by the Mayor and attested by the City Clerk, and shall have impressed thereon the corporate seal of the city. Interest falling due on the bonds on and prior to maturity shall be paid in full by the City of Escanaba, Michigan, and the coupons to be thereto attached, which coupons shall be signed by said Mayor and attested by the City Clerk, and shall have impressed thereon the corporate seal of the city. The interest rate for each coupon paid on any one bond shall be at one rate only, and not more than four different rates of interest may be specified. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such bonds must be paid by the City of Escanaba, Michigan, and the coupons to be thereto attached shall be in substantially the following form:
